TO

FREDERICK CLIFFORD, Esq., Q.C.

DEAR SIR,

I have much pleasure in dedicating this book to you, in grateful acknowledgment of the sympathy with which you have encouraged me throughout this arduous work, of the effectual help you have given me in partially revising it, and of many acts of disinterested kindness which will never vanish from my memory.

Ever gratefully yours,

THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTION

My object in compiling this book is twofold: Bibliography, by reason of its existing development, may now be almost regarded as having entered within the domain of science. Its branches admit of a variety of treatment, and may be classed under the following headings:—

1. General Literature, which has been exhaustively dealt with;

2. Early English and Elizabethan Literature, both of which have found exponents of a high order;

3. Editiones Principes, every item relating to which has been minutely described;

4. "Americana," which has received its full share of notice at competent hands.

5. But of books with embellishments, now so much in vogue, and so deservedly coveted by the intelligent amateur, the record is almost barren. At any rate the small amount of bibliographic attention now and then, in a scattered form, bestowed upon them is utterly inadequate. Individual artists and authors have, indeed, been specifically treated, but the absence of any proper manual for this beautiful and often costly combination of literature and art is most conspicuous.

To supply this long-outstanding want has been my primary motive in collecting the material now offered in book form, which will, I hope, furnish a key to the treasures so eagerly looked for by the connoisseur, though hitherto, for want of adequate guidance, not always looked for with prudence or with knowledge.

My secondary reason—and one, I submit, hardly less worthy of consideration—has been to bring into harmony the productions of English and French literature of a parallel period, and to demonstrate that they are not only not imitative, but that each in its own sphere is creative.

The love of pictures has from time immemorial been a passion more or less easily awakened in the human breast, but just as the early rude delineations of art have undergone a radical transformation, so the standard of appreciation has varied with each succeeding age. In the manuscripts of mediæval times the dulness and monotony of the caligraphy were relieved by the interspersed decorations; and ornamental capitals, arabesque borders, and illuminated miniatures formed a redeeming feature of the text. The xylographic art, precursor of the invention of printing, was a maiden attempt to promulgate and popularize the miniature, which gradually developed into its present state of perfection. In woodcut illustrations Italy (the cradle of this art) and Germany took the lead; and the creations of Botticelli, Beham, Albert Durer, and their respective schools were the means of spreading widely the culture of taste during the early stages of what may be called our art civilization.

This genre of outline engravings mainly contributed to develop that more cultivated taste of beauty and form in which the eighteenth century particularly excelled. The period was pre-eminently profuse in such artistic productions. Both the English and French schools were fruitful in distinguished artists, who by their exquisite embellishments enhanced the intrinsic merit of good books, and often invested with a permanent value even ephemeral works. These stars and their satellites will ever shine with lustre in the firmament of art.

In the phalanx of famous names we must assign the palm to Hogarth and Watteau: for, wide apart as were their respective careers, each running in a different groove, they had in common the aim of all high art—the one holding up a mirror reflecting the life and manners of his time; the other enrapturing us by his types of beauty and form, and excelling in every delineation which we now call æsthetic. Watteau was in word and deed master of the French art which he created, and his style, when rightly viewed, is neither borrowed nor imitative—a reproach levelled more or less justly at his predecessors, Le Brun, Poussin, Mignard, and Claude. Every trait in his art bears the stamp of originality and breathes the true French spirit. How aptly De la Fosse remarked to him that he was not conscious how great was the dormant capacity of his creative genius! Yet the multitude and variety of his subjects were produced in a short and suffering life of thirty-seven years. Hogarth is the Anak of his branch of art: he revelled in the anatomy of the human heart, dissecting, with sometimes hideous minuteness, the follies and vices of bygone generations; and in his power of composition he is not to be rivalled, still less surpassed. Truly Charles Lamb said of him that “his graphic representations are indeed books,” and, invested as they are by him with human interest, they are imperishable. These two gigantic geniuses, however, achieved little if anything in the way of book decoration. Hogarth’s individuality appears not to lend itself to interpret other people’s thoughts, and his illustrations to Butler’s “Hudibras,” which, according to his own judgment, are the best of their kind, cannot be regarded as worthy of so great and powerful a master. Watteau, again, never occupied himself in book illustration. But by both artists this delightful branch of art must have been suggested to their pupils and followers. Gillray and Rowlandson evidently derived their inspirations from Hogarth; and Boucher, who was trained under Watteau, established his reputation as pioneer and master of his school by his epoch-making illustrations to the Molière of 1734, which faithfully render the costume, the decorative style and the architecture of the Louis XV. period. Chippendale and Ince and Mayhew, and Lalonde and Boucher fils, vied with each other in the display of artistic designs for household furniture. Blake, deservedly styled the English Rembrandt, and Bewick, the parent of the English woodcut, were each in his own line actively engaged in elevating the public taste. In an age of enervated poetic style Blake's poetry may take rank with the best of the period. It is, however, a notable feature, that while at the outset of his career these double faculties were kept by the artist-poet in perfect balance and harmony, his poetical genius in later years waned in proportion as his artistic development gained the ascendancy, for in "Job" the sublimity of Blake's art reached its climax. Bewick's greatness was due to his reproduction of true nature; his observation was correct, and in drawing scenes and figures from life he always remained faithful to nature. In Bartolozzi and Eisen, the one Italian and the other Flemish by birth, art asserted her cosmopolitan character. Exotic plants thriving on foreign soil, both enriched the English and French literature by their compositions, which serve as models of quaintness and of grace, though lacking force of expression. Moreau surpassed them in vigour, flexibility, and variety of treatment. His versatile genius, too, was coupled with a rare energy and industry, and he was thus able to make himself famous in every branch of art, leaving his mark in the whole field of illustrated literature. In tragic and comic scenes alike he exhibits his masterly skill, and at his best he is nothing if not penetrating and thorough. How pitiable, then, that this inimitable artist outlived himself, and that in the productions executed by him in his declining age he becomes a mere shadow of his former self, traces of decay being conspicuous in every trait, so as almost to baffle recognition! Gravelot, who practised his art partly in England and partly in France, rose to distinction by his lucid manner of treatment, and almost all his compositions breathe the spirit of good humour and joviality. He is taunted with levity, and with sometimes overstepping the borders of decorum; but we must have regard to the manners of his time, and for himself, his unsullied art atones for isolated blemishes of indelicacy. Rowlandson, by his brilliancy of colouring and marvellous process of grouping, is full of entertainment; and pathos, so important an ingredient in humour, is seldom lacking in his compositions. His amusing, delightful, inexhaustible drollery compensates for somewhat vicious outpourings.

With his wealth of observation and propensity to merriment, he could not resist the impulse of drawing realistic scenes from life, and sometimes portraying from nature rather coarsely. Marillier, of "Dorat Fables" fame, and Choffard, the great exponent of art applied to small things, brought the vignette to a high degree of excellence not to be surpassed at any future period. C. N. Cochin, one of the old stock of artists in his double capacity as draughtsman and engraver, was remarkable alike for correctness of design as well as beauty of execution. Fragonard, weak in point of quantity, was strong and brilliant in quality when judged by a higher standard of art. His leaning towards the licentious he inherited from his great teacher Boucher, who, perhaps to court favour with his patroness Madame de Pompadour, indulged in that degenerate style as well as in the mannerism which marks the works of both master and pupil. But their verve, their exquisite style of arrangement and of shaping and forming figures, added untold charm to the beauty of their illustrations. Meissonnier excelled in more than one faculty, having been painter, sculptor, architect, and decorative artist in turn, and in the goldsmith's art (orfèverie) he was no unworthy rival of Germain; for if he could not achieve the latter's tasteful perfection (finesse), he was his equal in the powers of invention and execution. Cauvet, in his ornaments, displays an art which is simply admirable. In brief, the array of English and foreign artists figuring in this century of evolution and revolution is not only formidable as to number, but what is more important, their works will stand out as monuments of art for all time.

In much the same degree as art and artists of the eighteenth century in their own time and in subsequent years suffered neglect and even disdain, so they have, with the dawn of better taste, gained high estimation both in England and France.
This transition, however, like most other rapid revolutions in the public taste, brought evil as well as good in its train. The stimulus given to the market value of these works by patrons of the revival, led up to fancy prices paid in famous record sales. In some instances such prices may have been justified, partly owing to distinguished previous ownership ("provenance"), and partly by the exceptional binding and preservation of the books; but none of these causes can be taken as constituting a standard of value. Such a basis of purchase applied generally would spell ruin to sober-minded amateur and professional alike.

The divergency of prices in the London and Paris markets has always struck me as an astounding anomaly. Having had the advantage of attending sales all the year round in England and on the Continent for the last two decades or so, I have come to the conclusion that either lack of knowledge or want of appreciation are at the bottom of this divergency. Genuine copies of out-of-the-way English books are rareæ aves in the Hôtel Drouot, but when they do occur, the fierce competition for them is a spectacle both amusing and exciting. When biddings are made at random, prices of course become fictitious. In the same way foreign books of every description come into the English market, and though at times they cannot escape being sacrificed, they generally attain high figures, and instances could be multiplied in which buyers have overpaid. The root of the evil lies in a growing tendency to consult catalogues for prices, in making injudicious acquisitions, and forming collections with little taste and less discrimination. I have, therefore, set myself the not light task of endeavouring to warn the book-lover and collector against these costly mistakes, and have embodied in my work the result of a prolonged and multifarious experience. The majority of the books I have described de visu, and I may make bold to state that there is hardly an item of significance which I have not supplied with notes conveying some information of a novel character. In point of collation I exerted myself to verify, rectify, and improve upon all previous sources of reference. This was an arduous and irksome labour. In short, I have strained every effort to make the book authoritative, and being practically conversant with recent records of market values, it will be found, I hope and believe, that as far as possible I have succeeded in assigning to the books, in their various editions, their fair and proper level of prices.

If at the first glance some of my valuations appear to be at variance with irrefutable records of figures, on closer examination my estimates will be found not alone to bear out these figures, but to bring them into broad relief. A practical illustration will suffice to elucidate this point. The Baskerville edition of Ariosto's "Orlando Furioso" is valued at from thirty to forty shillings, and double in morocco. Now, many copies at the time of publication were sent over to Paris for binding by Derome, and if one such genuine and artistically designed specimen by this famous art-binder in immaculate preservation were to come under the hammer in an auction-room of good class, it would be hotly contested, and might reach the round sum of £100 and upwards. This exceptional price, however, does not affect the general rule laid down as to value. My admiration for everything really attractive and artistic has never undergone any diminution; but to countenance fictitious values for books of no exceptional interest would be the height of folly.

Fluctuation in prices is another matter of serious import, a powerful factor to be reckoned with. It may be accounted for in more than one way. A book not easily obtainable falls in the category of a rare volume, but as it is not of intrinsic merit, it forms merely the whim of a few collectors, who indulge a mania à outrance. A reaction is sure to set in, for what was pursued was a shadow. Again, an enthusiastic amateur hits upon the idea of collecting a certain class of books of some special interest to him, but of quite imaginary value. He finds a host of imitators, but as soon as they have satisfied their cravings, or have passed away, the rage subsides and the volcano of competition becomes extinct. A work to be of perennial merit and value must be endowed with recognised qualities either literary or artistic, and in their absence there must be substituted a fair outward appearance of a bibliopegistic nature. The three points combined in one are the ideal and the desideratum of every aspiring connoisseur, but any book in the garb of a renowned binder of the period, or bearing the arms of a distinguished owner, forms a relic of commanding interest.

It is a healthy sign of the times that books of unwieldy dimensions are on the decline. Those, however, that are endowed with the beauty and magnificence of artistic designs will ever retain their original appreciative value. The principle is sound that art will always enjoy immunity from death.

In the course of this work I have not scrupled to reveal many points hitherto confined to the knowledge of a few book experts. There seems to be no reason why collectors and book lovers should not be made acquainted with what have hitherto been trade secrets. These, accessible now only to the privileged few, will henceforth be common property.

County histories form an essential item in this work, as they give the topography and illustrate many places of interest, including castles, abbeys, and other edifices often famous in history. They therefore deservedly find a place in the great libraries, and in spite of the downfall in prices of books of topography, these will ever retain a certain value on account of their interesting associations.

On the other hand, I have excluded some books which are either devoid of any feature of interest from the literary or artistic point of view, or are not germane to the object of my work.

In selecting the specimens of illustrations I have been guided by the principle of reproducing either those endowed with the charm of beauty or possessing some intrinsic merit. The series of Freemasonry plates, reprinted from the original issue, is of the utmost rarity, if not unobtainable, and these reprints will serve the collector as a safeguard against the re-issues of much inferior value published in quick succession, which may easily be detected by comparing the positions of the figures. The plate from the series of plates of the Marquise de Pompadour, amateur artist though she was, marks her influence in the field of art and literature. For good or for evil, it was productive of striking results. In the region of politics and of State affairs her misdeeds excited the hatred of the populace, and her evil genius, not less than the writings of Voltaire and Rousseau, helped to precipitate the French Revolution. She founded the Factory of Sèvres, painted vases with her own hands, and set the example of collecting decorative furniture, artistically designed fans, and other articles of vertu. She encouraged budding artists, extended her patronage to the encyclopedists in the persons of Diderot, d'Alembert, and Helvetius, sheltered Crebillon, protected Montesquieu against the attempts of the Jesuits to prosecute him for his publication of "L'Esprit des Loix," and watched over the fortunes of Boucher. Even the independent Voltaire she managed to keep in bondage. Her pride, however, was seriously wounded by Rousseau's phrase in his "Emile" saying, "La femme d'un charbonnier est plus estimable que la maitresse d'un roi."

In fine, it will be gratifying to me to feel that my labours have been the means of putting the collector on his guard against acquiring spurious copies of valuable editions, and of causing people to know the value they should attach to books of this period which they may wish to acquire or to dispose of.

Copies on vellum paper are worth double, and dearer in old morocco.

Æsop. Esope en belle humeur, on la dernière traduction et augmentation de ses fables, en prose et en vers (par J. Bruslé de Montpleinchamp, Chanoine de Bruxelles) Nouvelle édition en 2 tomes. A Brusselle (sic), chez François Foppens, 1700, 2 parts, 12mo. (15s., and double in morocco). First edition with the copper vignettes after Harrewyn.

There are two issues of vol. 1, in the second of which the illustrations after page 55 are of larger dimensions and better executed, besides that they bear the artist's name. According to Nodier, Bruslé de Montpleinchamp is not the author of the book, as he could never master the art of metre; and the origin of the error into which both Brunet and Barbier fell on this point was the publication by Bruslé de Montpleinchamp in that year of "Le Festin Nuptial, dressé dans l'Arabie Heureuse, ou Mariage d'Esope, de Phèdre et de Pilpai avec trois fées divisé en trois tables par M. de Palaidor. A Piron, en basse Normandie, chez Florent A. Fable, à l'enseigne de la Verité dévoilée, 1700, 12mo." as a counterpart to the above work. We cannot, however, believe that these two distinguished bibliographers have without weighty reason determined the authorship, as the one work appeared anonymously, and the other under a pseudonym. Brunet, while attributing the first work to Bruslé on the strength of Barbier's authority, says that Bruslé only edited the latter book. He even adds that the few fables of Bruslé's own composition are the worst in the book, and having exposed him as an incapable prose writer as well as an inapt versifier, M. Nodier's argument is thus clearly weakened, if not untenable.

Originally published in 1666 with the 112 plates, and reprinted in 1687 with the additional 31 plates to the Life. A copy was sold in 1889 for £3 7s. 6d.

Lowndes only mentions the second edition of 1723, and adds: This book, by the celebrated Locke, is little known, and is not included in the editions of his works. He values it at £1 1s. What, then, is the first edition worth? (30s. to 40s.)

Copies with unlettered proofs are rare and valued at £16. The reprints could easily be detected by the impressions, and copies are often uncut. Le Bibliophile parisien quotes a copy with the 2 plates "Fête de village" and "Hachis d'oignon" in two states, the first duplicate as etching and the second in reduced size.

Basan (Fr.). Cabinet Poullain ou Collection de cent vingt estampes gravées d'après les tableaux et dessins qui composoient le cabinet de M. The frontispiece exists as proof before letters, in which Mariette's bust is allegorically treated.

Basan. Dictionnaire des Graveurs anciens et modernes, depuis l'origine de la gravure, par F. Basan, graveur; seconde édition mise par ordre alphabétique, considérablement augmentée et ornée de cinquante estampes par différents artistes célèbres, ou sans aucune au gré de l'amateur. Paris, 1789, 2 vols., 8vo., 2 frontispieces, one by Langlois after Cochin, the other designed and engraved by Pierre, 3 headpieces after Choffard, the arms of the Comte Durazzo, 2 "Amors" engraving a plate and the portrait of Basan, and 50 figures on 43 plates. The plate "le Rosignol," page 89, vol. 2, by B. Picart, is the only original one (and should not be missing), all the other illustrations by Cochin, Eisen, Marillier, Moreau, etc., are copied from other works. The Book teems with errors and is utterly inadequate (25s. to 30s.).

The first edition came out in 1767, 3 vols., 12mo., the third volume containing "Catalogue des estampes gravées d'après Rubens," which is not in this edition. The edition of 1809, 2 vols., 8vo., has only a new title and 18 new subjects, among which we may mention "Le Déjeuner de Ferney," after Denon, portrait of the Duc de la Rochefoucauld and a new frontispiece after Choffard to the memory of Basan. The plate of "Le Rossignol" was suppressed, and the text is increased by Choffard's "Notice sur l'Art de la Gravure."

Beaumarchais (Caron de). Eugénie, drame en cinq actes, en prose, enrichi de figures en taille-douce, avec un Essai sur le Drame sérieux, par M. de Beaumarchais. Paris, Merlin, 1767, 8vo., 5 plates by Duclos, Levasseur, Leveau, Masquelier and Née after Gravelot. Original Edition (8s. to 10s.).

Beaumarchais (Caron de). La Folle Journée, ou le Mariage de Figaro, comédie en cinq actes, en prose, par M. de Beaumarchais . . . The unlettered proofs are within borders (removed immediately afterwards), and extremely rare, and much more so the etchings, of which only one complete series (M. de Villeneuve's) is extant; the other (M. de Paillet), erroneously reported in the last Edition of Cohen, 1886, as perfect, is offered by Morgand in his special Catalogue de la Bibliothèque de M. E. Paillet, 1887, as wanting the etching in the first act. The Bibliothèque de la Comédie française possesses the unique copy on vellum, as well as the Original Drawings à la plume lavés de bistre (washed in brown) by Saint-Quentin, bequeathed by M. Philippe de Saint-Aubin. The Errata leaf, which is frequently missing, has been recently reprinted. The plates are engraved in a superior manner, but the fact of having Rosina's bosom covered in the last act disproves the assertion that they were engraved prior to the Malapeau series.

Beaumarchais (Caron de). La Folle Journée, ou le Mariage de Figaro, comédie en cinq actes, en prose, par M. de Beaumarchais, représentée pour la première fois, par les comédiens français, le mardi 27 avril, 1784. Au Palais-Royal, chez Ruault, libraire, près du théâtre No. 216, 1785, 8vo., 5 plates by C. N. Malapeau (the last by Roi), after Saint-Quentin (25s. to 30s.). Original edition.

The breast of Rosina in the last plate is uncovered, which is not the case in the Liénard series. Copies exist on "papier fort" marked with a star. There is another rare series of 5 outline plates (lightly touched), by Naudet, 8vo., and which is also to be met with in a counterfeit with the inscription, "à Séville de l'imprimerie du comte Almaviva," as well as in a Lyon edition "d'après la copie envoyée par l'auteur," 1785, 8vo. Amateurs who wish to enhance the value and interest of the book should collect the portraits of the performers, viz., Mlle. Contat by Dupin fils after Desrais, 8vo.; Mlle. Contat by Janinet after Dutertre in colours, roy. 8vo.; another portrait in colours, smaller size; Mlle. Olivier (rôle of Cherubin), designed and engraved in colours by Contellier, 4to.; Molé (Almaviva), 8vo., tinted in colours, not signed; Des Essarts (rôle of Bridoison); Dozincourt by Robert de Launay. The series of 12 plates, 16mo. by Chodowiecki, and the rare series of 5 plates in oval by Béginot, Quoyots, Moucler, after Dnabelle and Garnerey (which exists in black, in red, and in colours), as well as portraits of the author, should likewise be added. A German version appeared at Kehl, 1875, 8vo., with Saint-Quentin's plates engraved under the direction of Chrétien de Méchel.

Beaumarchais (Caron de). Mémoires de M. Caron de Beaumarchais, 2 vols., 8vo. (without place or date), portrait of Beaumarchais, and frontispiece by Marillier in each volume (10s.). The author's portrait after Cochin by Leroy, or the one signed by Saint-Aubin, or by Delâtre form an interesting addition. The original edition of the Memoirs appeared in 1774, 4to. (10s.).

Billardon de Sauvigny. L'Isle d'Ouessant, 8vo., vignette by Moreau and 14 plates of music (4s.).

Billardon de Sauvigny. Le Parnasse des Dames. Paris, Ruault, 1773, 9 vols., 8vo., 9 engraved titles (6 different), frontispiece and 15 vignettes, 9 of which are with the portraits of Sapho, Marguerite de Navarre, Louise Labé, Mme. Desroches, la comtesse de la Suze, Mlle. de Scudéri, Mme. and Mlle. Deshoulières, Mme. de Louvencourt and Mlle. Chéron; 2 with subjects and 4 with simple names, by Ponce after Marillier (20s.).

Charming illustrations and elegant titles. The last 4 vols. are entitled, "Théâtre des femmes angloises" (2), "Théâtre des femmes françoises" (1), and "Théâtre des femmes danoises et des femmes allemandes." A vol. 2 to the "Femmes françoises" was announced, but it is doubtful whether it was ever published.

Billardon de Sauvigny. Les Après-soupers de la Société, petit théâtre lyrique et moral. A Sybaris et à Paris, et chez l'auteur, 1782-3, 23 parts in 6 vols., 16mo., 28 plates by Aliamet, Berthet, Giraud le jeune, de Launay, de Longueil, Martinet, and Massard, after Eisen, Binet, and Martinet.

Vol. i. has 5 plates and 18 pp. of engraved music ; vol. ii., 5 plates and 15 pp. of music ; vol. iii., 6 plates and 8 pp. of music ; vol. iv., 4 plates and 10 pp. of music ; vol. v., 5 plates and 10 pp. of music ; vol. vi., 3 plates and no music. The book is appreciated because of the fine execution of the plates. The work originally came out in parts, some of which, having at an early stage been sold out, were afterwards reprinted. The originals, which are with difficulty found together, can be distinguished by the printed title to each piece, starting with letter A, while the reprint starts with A 2. The paper of the reprint is bluish. Originals £6 to £8, reprints less than half.

An infamous attack on this celebrated vocalist with a view, it is supposed, of extorting money. An answer, with the Life and Adventures of Richard Daly, Esq., and an account of the Irish Theatre, appeared in the same year, and is of equal value.

Bimont. Principes de l'Art du Tapissier, ouvrage utile aux gens de la profession et à ceux qui les employent, dédié à Mgr. le Dauphin, par M. Bimont, maître et marchand tapissier. Paris, Lottin l'ainé, 1774, 12mo., 29 folding plates of furniture, rare (£3 to £4).

Several copies were struck off on vellum, one of these with the plates on vellum painted like miniatures, 316 frs. The book was also published in the same year in 2 vols., 16mo., "papier ordinaire," and "papier vélin."

Bitaubé. Joseph . . . sixième édition revue et corrigée. Paris, Didot l'ainé, an V. (1797), 2 vols. 16mo., 9 plates by Née after Marillier (6s., and double on vellum paper).

Blackguardiana, or Dictionary of Rogues, Bawds, Shoplifters, Murderers, Pirates, Mountebanks, Whores, Pickpockets, Coiners, Housebreakers, Gipsies (by Jas. Caulfield), 20 curious portraits. London, n.d. (1795), 8vo. (30s. to 40s.).

[Blackwell (Henry)]. The English Fencing Master, or the Compleat Tuterour of the Small Sword, in a Dialogue between Master and Scholar. London, printed by J. Downing in Bartholomew Close for the author, 1702, sm. 4to., 5 woodcuts; rare (£3 to £4). The Ashburnham copy in old English blue morocco with gilt ornamental panels, £9 15s. (June, 1897).

A mystical allegory full of tender beauty and enigmatic meaning.

Blake (W.). Songs of Innocence, the Author and Printer W. Blake. 1789, 8vo., engraved throughout in colours by the artist on 27 pages. Original Edition (£40).

Mrs. Blake assisted her husband in the printing, delighting in a task so congenial to her artistic feeling and taste. The poet having, in fact, with the aid of his wife, performed the writing, designing, printing, and engraving, he was literally the author of his own book.

Blake (W.). Songs of Innocence and of Experience, showing the Two Contrary States of the Human Soul; the author and printer, W. Blake. 1789-94, 8vo. and 4to., title and 53 unnumbered pages, with designs engraved and coloured by the author-artist (£60 to £80). The Gaisford copy, 8vo., £87, and the copy in 4to., containing only 31 unnumbered pages, £41 (1890); Lawrence's copy, 4to., with only 21 designs, in colours, £52 (1892).

Some copies bear the water-mark of 1825, Blake having done them shortly before his death. The widow, on receipt of a cheque for £20 from the Bishop of Limerick, sent him her husband's own copy so dated. If in the Songs of Innocence Blake's even temper is in keeping with its name, in those of Experience it is of a gloomier cast; the poetic excellence is in both fully maintained.

Blake (W.). Marriage of Heaven and Hell. 1790, 8vo. and 4to., 27 illuminated pages, with 14 coloured designs (being 3 more than mentioned by Gilchrist) (£30 to £40).

In some copies the letters are red, in others a golden brown. An attempt to fathom the depths of the mystery of Evil. The designs are highly finished.

Blake (W.). Campe's Elementary Dialogues for Youth. 1791, 12mo., 16 plates (10s.).

Blake (W.). Wollstonecraft (Mary). Original Stories from Real Life. London, 1791, 12mo., first edition, 6 plates engraved by W. Blake (12s. to 15s.).

Blake (W.). America, a Prophecy. Lambeth, 1793, fol., 20 pages, with 18 designs, printed in white or blue ink, plain or coloured (£30 to £40). The Gaisford copy, presented by the author, with his autograph inscription, and bound in morocco extra, ornamented with gold tooling and variegated leather by Bedford, £61 (1890).

The theme is the American War of Independence. Literary merit is wanting, but the designs display great power and beauty.

Blake (W.). Gates of Paradise. Lambeth, 1793, 12mo., 17 leaves, containing 16 engravings of emblems, accompanied by verses with a motto to each. Some copies have also the "Keys of the Gates" (£20 to £30).

Blake (W.). Europe, a Prophecy. Lambeth, 1794, fol., title, frontispiece and 15 plates, plain or coloured, by the artist (£20 to £30, and £50 to £60 respectively). Blake's favourite composition.

Blake (W.). First Book of Urizen. Lambeth, 1794, 4to., 26 leaves, with designs coloured by the artist (£20 to £25). The Gaisford copy, containing an original coloured drawing of the Preludium, inserted and bound in morocco by Bedford, £66 (1890).

The design, like the text, is characterized by a monotony of horror.

Blake (W.). The Song of Los. . . . 1795, 4to. It is divided in two portions, one headed Africa, the other Asia, text illuminated, and 2 full-page illustrations (£10 to £12).

Blake (W.). The Book of Ahania. 1795, 4to., text engraved with 3 designs (one more than mentioned by Gilchrist) (£10 to £12).

Blake (W.). Young (E.). Night Thoughts. 1797, sm. fol., 42 illustrations (the List should not be wanting) (£6 to £8, and treble and more coloured).

Blake (W.). Enfield (W.). The Speaker. 1799, 12mo., 4 plates, two of them by Blake (4s. to 5s.).

Blake (W.). Salzmann. Gymnastics for Youth. 1800, 8vo., frontispiece and 9 plates by Blake (6s. to 8s.).

Blake (W.). Designs to a Series of Ballads written by W. Hayley, founded on Anecdotes relating to Animals, drawn, engraved, and published by Wm. Blake. Chichester, J. Seagrave, 1802, 4to., 11 full-page engravings and vignettes (£6 to £7).

The subsequent edition of Hayley's Ballads on Animals, 1805, contains two of the plates, "The Eagle" and "The Lion," repetitions from the quarto edition, and three new plates, viz.: "The Dog," "The Hermit's Dog," and "The Horse" (the last being the finest in the series). It proved a failure from the beginning, and even now commands a very low figure, say a few shillings.

Blake (W.). Hayley (W.). Triumphs of Temper, a poem. 1803, 8vo., 6 plates from Maria Flaxman's designs by W. Blake (15s., and double on large paper).

Blake (W.). Milton, a Poem in Two Books. 1804, 4to., 50 pages, engraved and coloured by the author-artist (£25. to £30).

Blake (W.). Jerusalem, the Emanation of the Giant Albion. 1804, fol., 100 engraved pages, mostly plain, but there are copies in blue, in red, in tints and in colours heightened with gold by the artist (£10, £20, £30, and £50 respectively, and double on large paper).

"Abstract qualities" is the characteristic of this work.

- Blake (W.). Illustrations to Dante, 1822, imp. fol., 7 India proof plates (£5 to £6). Lord Brabourne's copy, £10 (1891).

- Blake (W.). Illustrations of the Book of Job, 1825 (the cover is dated 1826), fol., title and 21 plates (£8, and double for proofs and treble on large paper with India proofs).
- Here Blake attained a high degree of sublimity, and deserves to be called the English Rembrandt. There exists a duplicate set which Blake specially executed for his friend Mr. Linell, and which is even finer in detail.
- Blake (W.). See Malkin's Life of a Child, Æsop's and Gay's Fables.

F. Lempereur, Leveau, Moitte, Ouvrier, Pasquier, Pitre-Martenaïse, Saint-Aubin, Sornique and Tardieu, after Gravelot, Boucher, Cochin and Eisen (£6, and treble and considerably more in old morocco, particularly so with the series of the "Estampes galantes") (consisting of frontispiece without the letterpress and 20 plates on fine paper, and without floreate or any border, being characteristic of the rare first issue).

Several issues exist of this edition, and the prevailing notion is that the very first may be recognized by the "paraphe" impressed on the back of some of the plates. In my opinion, after examining numberless copies with a view to ascertain the fact, this theory is fallacious, as the French plates, which are generally acknowledged to be later impressions, almost invariably bear that stamp. All the editions are on Dutch paper, and the test is the beauty of the impression. E. Martin's copy in old red morocco, 600 frs. The unique collection, in 6 vols., of 405 plates, consisting of artists' proofs, etchings, and head and tail pieces in "tirage à part" designed by Eisen, Gravelot, Cochin and Boucher, was acquired in the Beckford sale (1882) for £130. It was afterwards offered by M. Morgand in his catalogue de la Bibliothèque de M. Eugène Paillet (1887) for 6000 frs.

Boccaccio. Le Décameron de Jean Boccace, traduit par Le Maçon. Londres (Paris), 1757, 5 vols., 8vo. The illustrations are the same as in the above-described Italian edition (£6, and in morocco according to state).

This French version is more valued in France than the original Italian edition. Some French connoisseurs allege that the illustrations were simultaneously executed for both editions, and it has even been suggested that the French proofs were anterior to the Italian ones. This suggestion, though made by a highly competent artist and critic, fails, we think, to carry conviction to a close observer; suffice it to mention that in the early copies of the Italian edition all the volumes bear the date 1757, while the French edition is invariably dated 1757-61. The plate in the first "Nouvelle" of the 8th Day differs in the French from the Italian edition. Large-paper copies should be avoided, as the impressions they contain are inferior and worn. They may be classed with the reissues which bear the original date, but are easily to be detected by the weak and pale state of the plates. The Béhague copy in old red morocco with the "Estampes galantes," 1620 frs.; Delbergne-Cormont's copy in a similar state, 1520 frs.; Quentin-Bauchart's copy in red morocco by Derome, 5200 frs.; resold in the R. Lion sale for 5000 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy in red morocco, with dentelle doublé, and with arms on sides by Derome, 6960 frs. (1894). In the same year St. Quentin's copy in old red morocco with dentelle, 1200 frs.; M. Delzollies' copy in red morocco doublé with dentelle (Padeloup), 915 frs.; Gravelot's original drawings have partly figured in the Villot sale. They are nearly all now in the Roederer Collection at Reims; the original drawing of the frontispiece containing Boccaccio's portrait belongs to M. G. de Villeneuve. In the first issue the frontispiece of the 21 extra plates is without the inscription of "Estampes galantes des Contes du Boccace."

Boccace (Le petit), ou les dangers de l'Amour, ses peines, ses tourments, etrennes aux amants malheureux. A Paris, Desnos, s.d., 16mo., 10 charming plates after Binet (15s.).

Boffrand (Germain). Paris, Cavelier, 1743-45, folio, pretty vignette by Tardieu after Boucher, and 68 plates of architecture, numbered 1 to 70; plates 21 and 77 were never published (£5 to £6).

Ten of these plates represent the interior decoration of the Hôtel de Soubise engraved by Babel and Lucas.

Picart, save the portrait by V. Gunst after Kneller (20s. and considerably more in morocco).

Few copies printed on large paper are very rare, and last century they were much coveted by amateurs. Reprinted 1729, with frontispiece and plates for "le Lutrin," within grotesque borders, re-engraved, some of the tailpieces either suppressed or modified (those on pages 19, 199, 216, 228, 289, 372 and 445 are new).

La Haye, Vaillant, Gosse et de Hondt, 1722, 4 vols., 12mo., fine frontispiece and 6 plates for "le Lutrin" (reduced from those of the 1718 edition) (5s.).

Fleuron on the title of first volume, a large folding plate containing tailpiece with coat of arms, and 29 distinct tailpieces, all designed and engraved by B. Picart. Béhague copy in red morocco with arms of Mme. Adélaïde, 400 frs.; Lebœuf de Montgermont's large-paper copy in 8vo., with 34 tailpieces in red morocco, by Padeloup, 1020 frs.

This edition is invested with a special interest, inasmuch as the original orthography of Boileau is therein preserved intact, while in the other editions it has been modernized. Sometimes this edition contains the series of Cochin's 6 plates for "le Lutrin" within historiated borders, the same proofs which without borders have been utilized in the 1747 edition.

Copies on fine Dutch paper, and signatures marked with stars, or on stout paper, are much in request. Such a copy in old morocco in the Silvestre de Sacy sale brought 750 frs. ; the Lebœuf de Montgermont copy 1400 frs. The edition is of a handy size, and deserves appreciation. M. Ch. Mehl points out that the vignette representing animals heading the 9th satire should by virtue of the subject have been placed at the head of the satire 8, and vice versâ.

Prudhon, the great artist, has kept the author's memory green, else he would have long since fallen into oblivion. The graceful plates, particularly "La Soif de l'Or," are very rare : still more so to find them all in one text. There should be 10 plates, viz. : L'Hospitalité, le Sacrifice, l'Oracle, la Discorde, la Grotte, le Meurtre, la Fuite, l'Ingratitude, la Vengeance, la Conquête. Only 5 are known, viz. : L'Hospitalité, number having been issued of the first volume, the publishers were compelled to re-issue it in 1761; hence so few copies occur bearing the original date 1752. The book is likewise incorrect as regards the reproduction of the plates of the monuments, which detracts not a little from its value (£2, and much more in morocco).

The first impressions, as they were published by Caylus without title or explanations and before the numbers, are valued at 30s. to 40s., while Basan's publication of the same under the title of Recueil de Trois cents Têtes, numbered and explained, is hardly worth 10s. M. Hip. Destailleur's copy of the first impressions, and bound in old red morocco, realized in 1895 only 50 frs.

Schley (13), and Tanjé (5), after Boucher (1), Cochin (2), Coypel (25), Lebas (1), and Tremolières (2) (10s., and more than double before the numbers, and £4 to £6 on large paper, sm. folio. Superb edition from the typographical as well as artistic point of view. It is a fact worth recording that the impressions in the unlettered proof are somewhat pale, which strengthens the belief that those with the letterpress were taken first. They are also of rarer occurrence, and should decidedly be preferred. There are some plates before the numbers. Copies with a paper of mixed quality should be avoided (£2 to £3, and treble and more in old morocco).

Corbinelli. Histoire généalogique de la maison de Gondi. Paris, Coignard, 1705, 2 vols., 4to., numerous coats of arms, genealogical tables, plates of old monuments (chiefly destroyed by the tide of time), 28 male and female portraits (remarkable for the costumes) by Duflos, Mariette, and others (30s.).

Cordonnel (Adam de). Picturesque Antiquities of Scotland. . . . London, 1788-93, 4 parts, 8vo., 100 plates (20s. to 30s., and more on stout paper).

Corneille. Théâtre de Pierre Corneille, nouvelle édition. Amsterdam, chez H. Desbordes, 1701, 5 vols., 16mo., portrait, engraved frontispiece and 32 plates, not signed, 15s.; Théâtre de Thomas Corneille, 5 vols., 1701, 16mo., portrait and 32 plates, not signed, 10s. In old morocco they both are worth £3 and more.

Corneille. Théâtre de Pierre Corneille, avec des commentaires (par Voltaire), etc. (Genève) 1764, 12 vols., 8vo., frontispiece by Watelet after Pierre, representing Genius crowning the bust of Corneille, and 34 plates by Baquoy (2), Flipart (5), Lemire (19), Lempereur (2), de Longueil (3), Prévost (1), and Radigues (2) after Gravelot (20s., and in old French morocco, £10 to £15, and more according to state).

Voltaire had this edition printed by subscription by the Bros. Cramer at Geneva for the benefit of the great-granddaughter of Corneille. Few copies are free from discoloured leaves. Among Gravelot's plates, which, by the way, are not of his best, the most meritorious ones are those of the Comedies, especially the Menteur, Suite du Menteur and the Illusion Comique. The original drawings à la plume and au bistre are in the Collections of Paignon-Dijonval, Morel de Vindé and of the Comte de Chabot. M. Burillon of Geneva is the happy possessor of the quasi-complete and excessively rare set of the unlettered artist's proofs and the etchings. M. Edouard Bocher's copy, in red morocco with arms of La Borde de Méréville, 750 frs. (1879); Gosford's copy, in old red morocco, 800 frs. (1882).

Corneille. Théâtre de P. Corneille, avec les commentaries de Voltaire, 11 vols.—Œuvres de Thomas Corneille. Paris, Ant.-Aug. Renouard, 1817, 1 vol. together, 12 vols., 8vo., 2 portraits, 23 plates by Bosq, Berthet, Petit, Ribault, Roger and Simonet after Moreau (and one after Prudhon), 15s., and on large paper with unlettered proofs (of which 100 copies were printed), £4, and more than double in old French morocco, and with the etchings (of which 25 copies exist) considerably more.

Moreau's original drawings were sold in the Renouard sale, 1854, for 580 frs. Prudhon's fine plate for the "Imitation de Jésus-Christ," entitled "le portement de Croix," is very fine and frequently missing.

Corneille. L'Imitation de Jésus-Christ, traduite et paraphrasée en vers françois par P. Corneille, conseiller au Roi, édition nouvelle. A Paris, chez David, 1751, 12mo., 5 plates by Pocquet, copied after those of Chauveau from the edition of 1656.

Corneille. Rodogune, princess des Parthes, tragédie de Pierre Corneille. Au Nord (Versailles), 1760, 4to., frontispiece after Boucher, etched by Mme. de Pompadour, retouched and finished by Cochin fils (£3, and more in morocco).

This rare tragedy was printed in Mme. de Pompadour's salon situated au Nord (North wing), in the Castle of Versailles. Comte d'Ourches' copy had the following note in the hand of the marquis de Marigny, the previous owner of the Book: "En 1760, ma sœur eut la curiosité de voir imprimer. Le Roi fit venir un petit détachement de l'imprimerie royale et l'on imprima dans sa chambre et sous ses yeux, la présente tragédie de Rodogune. Il a été tiré très-peu d'exemplaires." The assertion that only 20 copies were printed is probably correct, as the book was privately and exclusively printed for presents. Mme. de Pompadour's own copy in a magnificent mosaic binding doublé, with her crest by Monnier, was bought in the Beckford-Hamilton sale (1882) for £325, and subsequently acquired by the Comte de Sauvage for 18,000 frs.

Comte de la Bedoyère's papier colombier copy sold in his sale for 884 frs. was resold in M. Hip. Destailleur's sale in 1895 for 1300 frs.

12 copies have been taken on papier vélin jésus with unlettered proofs. There is a modern reprint of very indifferent merit. The Palais Royal Gallery was dispersed during the French Revolution and the paintings sold in England.

Demoustier. Lettres à Emile sur la Mythologie. Paris, Renouard, an IX. (1801), 6 parts in 3 vols., 8vo., portrait by Gaucher, and 36 plates by Audouin and Goucher, after Monnet (10s., and double on vellum paper).

Demoustier. Lettres à Emile sur la Mythologie. Paris, Renouard, 1809, 6 parts in 3 vols., 8vo., 36 plates by Delvaux, de Ghendt, Roger, Simonet, Thomas, and Trière after Moreau, and 1 portrait by Tardieu after Pajou fils. There are various portraits of Demoustier. The unique copy on vellum, 8vo., 1809, in blue morocco with Moreau's 36 original drawings, and 24 other smaller drawings by this artist, as well as 14 drawings by Le Barbier, the drawing of Demoustier's portrait by Gaucher, plus the series of plates with and before letters and the etchings, 4 drawings by Le Barbier (not published), a drawing by not signed, and folding map, together 5 vols., 8vo. (20s., and treble and more in old French morocco).

Fokke, a pencil drawing portrait of the author by Gaucher, many India proof portraits and plates, all in that copy, was sold in the Renouard sale for the meagre sum of 520 frs. A. Fontaine re-offered and sold it from his catalogue in 1872 for 4000 frs. Renouard's vellum paper copy with the unlettered proofs, the etchings, and with many additional plates inserted, brought in the Delbergue-Cormont sale the respectable sum of 2800 frs. Renouard's attempt by a novel process to have Huber's and some of Moreau's drawings engraved in relief proved utterly a failure.

Ficket's portraits, some of which are little marvels of beauty and quaintness, form the prominent feature of the book. The earliest impressions are those where the artist's signature "à la pointe" is distinct and conspicuous. The artist's proofs without the text are of the utmost rarity. Vols. 1 and 2 have been reprinted, but they are easily recognised by the absence of the ornamented letters heading the chapters.

De La Beraudière's copy 1100 frs. Copies with unlettered proofs are rare; a few copies exist with the plates coloured. Unhappily the work remained unfinished.

Dorat. Œuvres complètes (comprising Les Baisers, Les Fables, la Declamation théâtrale, les Mélanges, and all the other works or opuscula, of which further on a detailed account is given). Paris, 1764-77, 20 vols., 8vo., plates after Eisen, Marillier and Quéverdo by Aliamet, Baquoy, Binet, Dambrun, Duclos, Duflos, Halbou, de Ghendt, de Launay, de Longueil, Le Roy, Legrand, Legouaz, Lebeau, Leveau, Lingée, Massard, Masquelier, Parizeau, Ponce, Mme. Ponce, Née, Simonet, etc. (£8 to £10, and on large Dutch paper, each piece having a separate pagination, and clearly showing them to be the first impressions, they deservedly command a fancy price). M. Grevy's copy (grand papier de Hollande), morocco, by Lortie, 2000 frs.

Dorat. Amilca, ou Pierre le Grand, tragédie, précédée d'un discours, etc. Paris, Sébastien Jorry, 1767, 8vo., 1 plate by de Longueil after Eisen (3s., and double on large paper, as is the case with all the single books of Dorat).

Dorat. Bagatelles anonymes, recueillies par un amateur. Genève, 1766, 8vo., vignette, not signed, and tailpiece by Née after Eisen (3s.).

First edition of the 15 Baisers and the first impressions of the frontispiece, the vignette of the "Hymne au Baiser," which in the subsequent edition forms the headpiece of the first "Baiser," and of the tailpiece of the 15 "Baiser," which afterwards is that of the twentieth.

Dorat. Les Baisers, précédés du Mois de mai, poème. La Haye et Paris, Lambert et Delalain, 1770, 8vo., Dutch paper, title in red, frontispiece by Ponce after Eisen, 1 plate by de Longueil after Eisen, fleuron on title, 22 head and 22 tail pieces all after Eisen (except 2 tailpieces after Marillier), by Aliamet (5), Baquoy (5), Binet (2), Delaunay (8), Lingée (2), de Longueil (6), Masquelier (4), Massard (5), Née (4), and Ponce (4) (£10 to £12).

Baron R. Portalis pronounces it the masterpiece of the eighteenth century, and deservedly so, for in gracefulness the illustrations stand unrivalled. The copies with the faulty pagination in the first leaves of the "Poème du Mois de Mai," and without the "Imitations de plusieurs poètes latins," are decidedly of the very first issue, the impressions of those with the rectified pagination and supplement being inferior. The value of this book has increased by leaps and bounds. Pixérécourt's copy, Grand papier de Hollande, brought 10 frs.; the Sieurin copy realized 4500 frs. We must turn the phrase and say, "Du ridicule au sublime il n'y a qu'un pas." A well-known French amateur (M. Leopold D.) is the happy possessor of the large Dutch Paper copy bound in ornamental morocco by Derome, with the arms of the ill-fated Queen Marie-Antoinette. If this copy were to come into the market, it would probably fetch a fabulous price. Comte de Lignerolles' copy in old French morocco with dentelle, 2560 frs.; E. Gonse's copy in calf with arms on back, 400 frs.; a third copy in morocco with dentelle by Trautz-Bauzonnet, 990 frs. (Paris sales, 1894). M. E. Paillet's copy, containing all the illustrations in artist's proofs without text in a splendid mosaic binding doublé by Chambolle and Marius Michel, 12,000 frs. (Morgand's Catalogue de la Bibliothèque de M. Eugène Paillet, 1887). Some of the illustrations or etchings exist "découvertes." The original drawings of "Les Baisers" are in the collection formed by the late Baron James de Rothschild. Grimm, in his "correspondence," devotes a few pages to this book, of which he speaks in high terms of praise, adding that it is rather the work of the artist Eisen than of the versifier Dorat. An old epigram on the subject is worth reproducing: "Un louis les Baisers." "Oui, Monsieur, c'est le prix." "Mon cher, le prix est fou; tu peux garder ton Livre." "Je ne le garde pas et le vends un louis." "De cette Muse-là le Public est donc yvre. Au moins ses vers sont chers." "Eh! regardez donc bien; Examinez, Monsieur, le papier, les images, les groupées (sic), les festons qui décorent les pages, Et vous verrez, Monsieur, qu'on a les vers pour rien." The smaller size copies, bearing the same date, but with the title plain, are of a later issue (15s. to 20s.).

Dorat. La Déclamation théâtrale, poème didactique, précédé d'un discours, etc. Paris, Sébastien Jorry, 1766, 8vo., frontispiece and 4 plates by de Ghendt after Eisen (10s.).

Dorat. La Danse, chant quatrième du poème de la Déclamation, précédée de notions historiques, etc. Paris, Sébastien Jorry, 1767, 8vo., 1 plate by de Ghendt after Eisen (4s.).

There are some counterfeits, which are very indifferent.

Dorat. Les Deux Reines, drame heroïque en cinq actes et en prose, suivie de Sylvié et Moleshoff. Paris, Sébastien Jorry, 1770, 8vo., 1 plate designed and engraved by Parizeau (5s.).

A reprint appeared about the same time.

Dorat. Les Dévirgineurs et Combabus, contes en vers, suivis de Floricourt, histoire françoise. Amsterdam (Paris), 1765, 8vo., 2 very fine plates by de Longueil after Eisen (5s.).

This piece simultaneously came out entitled "Les Trois frères et Combabus."

Dorat. Epître à Catherine II., impératrice de toutes les Russes. Paris, Sébastien Jorry, 1765, 8vo., vignette and tailpiece by de Longueil after Eisen (3s.).

Dorat. Epître à l'ombre d'un ami. Paris, Delalain, 1777, 8vo., 1 plate by de Ghendt after Marillier (3s.).

This booklet is also in the "Mélanges."

Dorat. Epître de Pierre Bagnolet, citoyen de Gonesse, aux grands hommes du jour (no whole but half title), 1 plate by Delaunay after Marillier, the same which is placed in "Merlin bel esprit" (4s.).

First edition of the Fables, and first impressions of the illustrations, which, with the additional ones, have been used for the famous edition of 1773.

Dorat. Fables Nouvelles. A la Haye et Paris, Delalain (or Monory), 1773, 2 vols., 8vo. (with running pagination), 2 frontispieces bearing: "Fables, par M. Dorat," and second one has added "vol. ii., s.d." by de Ghendt after Marillier, 1 plate after Marillier by Delaunay, repeated in second volume, fleuron on first title containing La Fontaine's portrait, 99 vignettes and 99 tailpieces after Marillier by Arrivet, Baquoy, Delaunay, Duflos, de Ghendt, Le Gouaz, Lebeau, Leveau, Lingée, de Longueil, Louis Legrand, Le Roy, Masquelier, Née, Ponce, Mme. Ponce, and Simonet. Several vignettes of the fourth book bear the date of 1775 (£3, and double and treble on large French or Dutch paper).

In delicacy of execution, as well as in the beauty of the embellishments, the book rivals "Les Baisers," and must be regarded as Marillier's masterpiece. The work was issued on ordinary paper, on large French bluish paper, and on large Dutch white paper, the last being the most desirable of the three. The first volume has been reprinted with the same date, but the impressions are inferior, and the type of the text coarse and of a modern aspect. In the first issue of vol. 1 the words "Reflexions préliminaires," in 2 lines (page 111) are under an interlaced ornament, while in the re-issue they are under 3 lines, the middle one being rather lumpy; the paper is also azure, and not so fine. Comte de Lignerolles' copy, grand papier de Hollande, in old red French morocco, 3050 frs. ; B. Maglione's copy in morocco with dentelle, by Derome, reliure dite "à l'oiseau," 2355 frs. ; St. Quentin's copy, in modern morocco, 170 frs. (Paris sales, 1894) ; L. de Tinan's copy, with almost all the vignettes in "tirage à part," in green morocco, by Cuzin, 6100 frs. M. E. Paillet's copy, with all the head and tail pieces, as well as the frontispieces and fleuron on first title, in artist's proofs, without text, and with the following additional illustrations, viz. title of the 1772 edition, head and tail piece of the same edition in "tirage à part" (the latter in two states, etching and finished) ; 3 etchings of the 1773 edition, and a headpiece by de Longueil for "Le chemin perdu et retrouvé" when this artist was prisoner in the "Châtelet," and different from the ordinary one, in a sumptuous morocco binding doublé by Cuzin, 15,000 frs. (Morgand's Catalogue of Paillet's Library). La Bedoyère's copy, with the illustrations "hors text," was sold in 1852 for 600 frs. The original drawings were bought in the Renouard sale in 1853 by Baron de Rothschild for 1400 frs.

Page 38 has sometimes 13 lines and sometimes only 7. Presumably the printer made the alteration when he perceived that the beautiful tailpiece at end was placed too low down. If so, copies with 13 lines to page 38 are preferable, as they contain the original impression of the tailpiece. This book forms also part of the "Mélanges."

This was the maiden attempt of the son of the famous engraver Wille. His age accounts and atones for defects in the compositions; he has been unable to throw off the dulness which characterizes all his future works. Reprinted 1767, with a new title engraved by de Longueil after Eisen (10s.).

The many-sided talent of this great artist is here shown at its best; his fertile imagination gives charm to every feature of his art, which in this genre can hardly be rivalled, still less surpassed. If a copy were to occur for sale it might reach a fancy price. The above description is taken from the copy in the Bibliothèque nationale.

Etat actuel de la Musique du Roi et des trois Spectacles de Paris. Paris, Vente, 1769 and following years, 16mo., engraved title by Moreau, frontispiece and 3 plates by Baron after Marillier and one headpiece, not signed (4s. each).

It was a sort of Almanack which started in 1759 and ceased in 1777. We describe 1769, containing, as it does, the first illustrations of Marillier, which go on till the end (1777), the previous years having hardly any engravings. Thus 1760 has only an engraved title by Martinet; 1768 a title in red by Moreau, and dated 1766; 1770 has a frontispiece by Baron after Eisen, 2 plates after Morillier, and a third after Eisen, all engraved by Baron; 1773 has a portrait of Mme. Favart, engraved title by Moreau, frontispiece and 2 plates by Eisen and Marillier; and 1775 has a frontispiece by Baron after Gravelot. However, the series in old French morocco with arms would represent a considerable sum.

The two portraits of Favart and Mme. Favart, called "la fée gentillesse" of the maréchal de Saxe, are interesting and finely engraved. Vol. 5 bears Madame Favart's name on title, as she assisted in selecting the subjects and the musical airs, contributed some couplets, and composed the music for them. The paper of the last 2 vols. is of inferior quality, and vol. ix. has no plates.

The plates, though fine, are lacking in grace; on the other hand the tailpieces are superb, particularly the one said to represent the head dressed with plumes of the ill-fated princess de Lamballe. The Original Drawings of the frontispiece and of the heraldic vignette form part of the collection of M. Portalis. King Louis-Philippe's copy, on vellum paper with arms of the duchesse d'Orleans, 120 frs.—a moderate price indeed, for the condition of the copy would command nowadays a fancy price. The illustrations are beautiful, but they are not in proportion as to size, and the enlarged copies are undesirable acquisitions. The Béhague copy in red morocco with rich dentelle, 1905 frs.; Silvestre de Sacy's copy bound by Padeloup with dentelle, 1700 frs. The binding in both cases accounts for the prices, which, however, are unreasonable.

sovereigns of the house of Brandenburg, executed in the manner of Cochin's tailpieces for the "Abregé" of Président Henault) after Schley (13), B. Picart (2), and Fokke (3), by Schley (15) and Fokke (3), 13 tailpieces by and after Schley (10) and Fokke (3) chiefly allegorical, 2 maps, 2 genealogical tables and several engraved capital letters (10s. to 15s., and more on large paper).

Frederick's Letter to the Prince royal, printed on thin paper, is only found in a few choice copies. The Béhague copy in red morocco brought the absurd price of 640 frs. The 1767 edition, 3 vols., 4to., contains frontispiece by Schmidt, 3 fleurons, 14 vignettes, 16 tailpieces, 2 maps, 2 genealogical tables, and 9 ornamental letters by Schmidt and Schleuen (5s.). M. Morgand offers in his Catalogue, 1882, a copy of an unknown edition, 12mo., bearing the same date, but without place of publication, having a fleuron on title by Fessard, and a portrait of the king added, and bound in calf with the arms of the maréchal, duc de Richelieu (presentation copy from Richelieu to M. de Cailhava), for 8 frs.

F. Schmidt (30s.).

The proofs without text are very rare, and sold for 100 frs. Edition de Luxe, of which only a few copies were printed at his palace in Berlin for distribution among the king's friends.

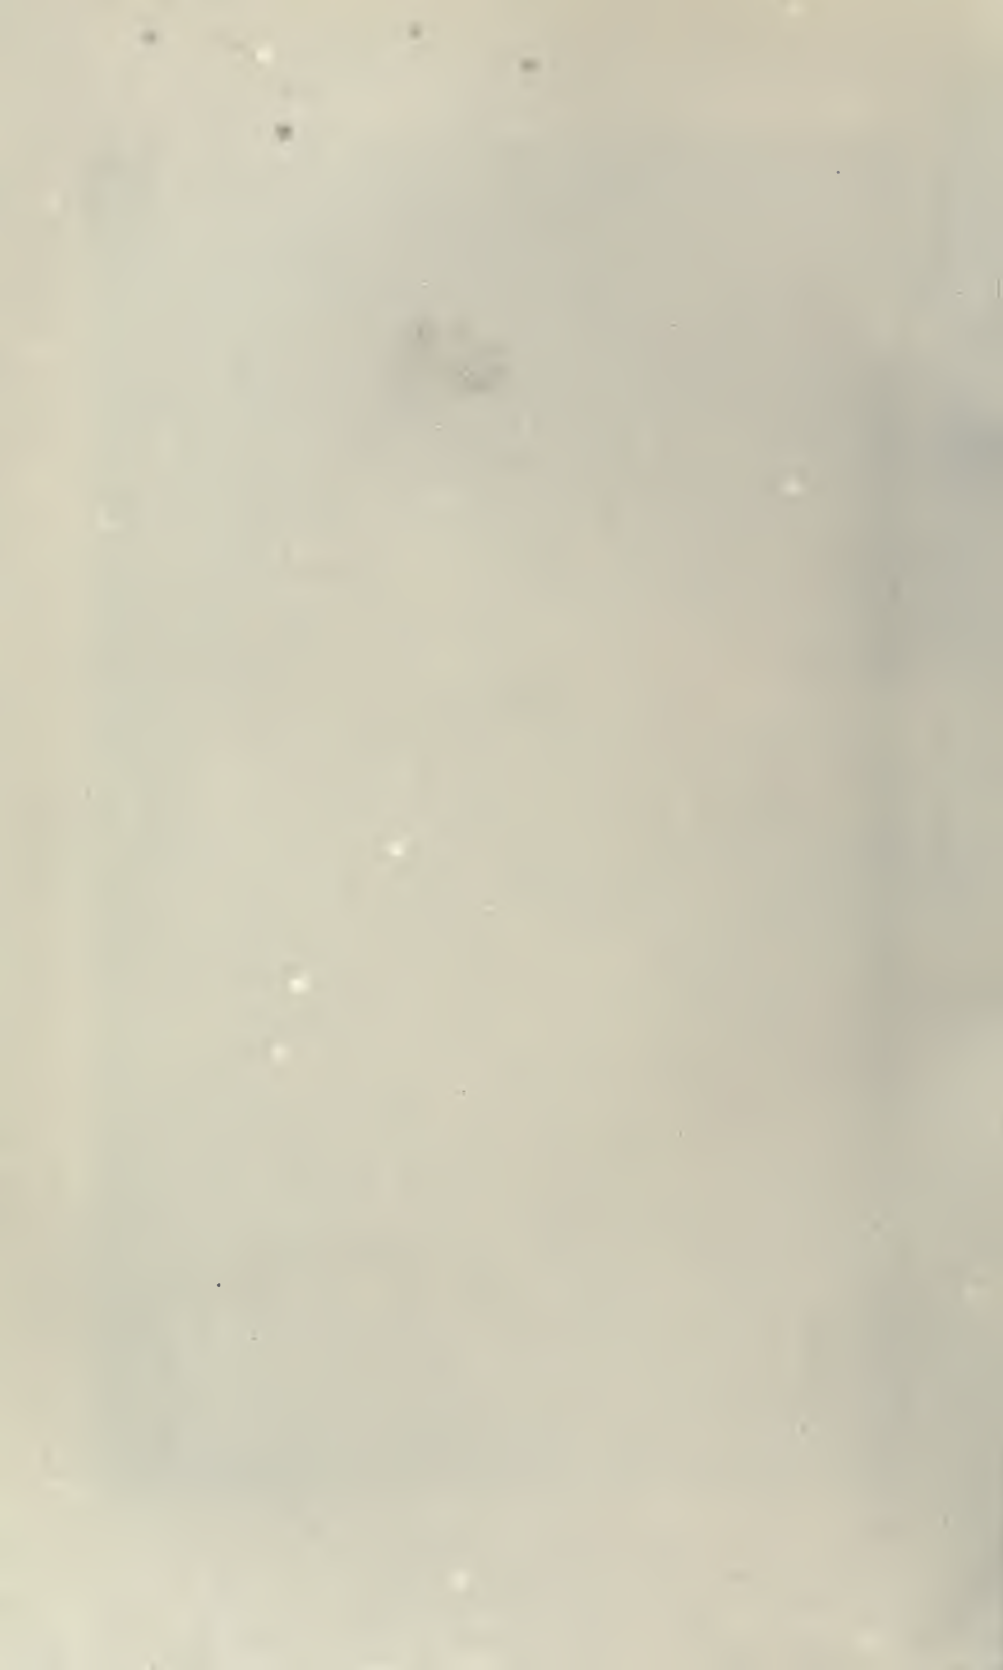

Frédéric II. Le Palladion, poème en 6 chants. Au Donjon du Château, 1750, 6 plates, 6 head and 6 tailpieces after G. J. Schmidt. This héroï-comic poem, written in imitation of "La Puelle," forms vol. 1 of the "Œuvres du Philosophe de Sans Souci." Most of the copies having been suppressed, it has become very rare; it was reprinted in 1752, with the omission on the title of the words, "Au Donjon du Château." Proofs before letters are almost unobtainable.

Freudeberg et Moreau. Suite d'Estampes pour servir à l'Histoire des Mœurs et du Costume des François dans le XVIII^e siècle. Année 1775 (Heuron). A Paris, de l'imprimerie de Prault, imprimeur du Roy, 1775, fol.

There are copies bearing another very rare title, which was disused owing to the business changing hands; it runs as follows: "Estampes (Suite d') pour servir à l'Histoire des Mœurs et du Costume des François dans le XVIII^e siècle, année 1774. A Paris, de l'imprimerie de J. Barbou, 1774." Consists of 12 plates after Freudeberg, title, 2 leaves for the preliminary Discours and 12 leaves for the explanation of the subjects, viz.: (1) Le Lever, A. Romanet, sculp., 1774; (2) Le Bain, A. Romanet, sculp., 1774; (3) La Toilette, Voyez L'Ainé, sculp., 1774; (4) L'Occupation, Lingée, sculp.; (5) La Visite inattendue, Voyez L'Ainé, sculp., 1774; (6) La Promenade du Matin, Lingée, sculp., 1774; (7) La Promenade du Soir, Ingouf, junior, sculp., 1774; (8) Le Boudoir, P. Maleuvre, sculp., 1774; (9) Les Confidences, Lingée, sculp., 1774; (10) La Soirée d'Hyver, Ingouf, junior, sculp., 1774; (11) L'Événement au bal, gravé à l'eau-forte par Duclos, terminé au burin par Ingouf, junior; (12) Le Coucher, gravée à l'eau-forte par Duclos, terminé au burin par Bosse.

The last leaf of text concludes with the following lines: "Lu et approuvé ce 15 décembre 1774, Crebillon." "Vu l'approbation, permis d'imprimer ce 17 décembre 1774, Lenoir." The plates bear on the left side the following inscription: "J. H. E. inv. Freudeberg delineavit," which initials clearly designate Jean Henri Eberts, the Swiss banker, who was the friend and patron of Freudeberg, and who is alluded to in the preliminary Discours as "amateur des arts qui a présidé au choix des styles et des compositions." Why Moreau le jeune was entrusted with the execution of the second and third series remains a mystery, the more so as Freudeberg has acquitted himself admirably, and Le Lever, La Visite, Le Boudoir, La Promenade du Matin, Le Coucher may be regarded as the most charming of his productions.

[Freudeberg et] Moreau. Seconde Suite d'Estampes pour servir à l'histoire des modes et du Costume en France, dans le XVIII^e siècle. Année 1776 (fleuron). A Paris, de l'imprimerie de Prault, imprimeur du Roy, 1777. Avec approbation et privilège du Roy, fol.

Consists of 12 plates after Moreau le jeune, title, 2 leaves for preliminary Discours, the approbation signed Cochin, the privilege dated April 23, 1777, and 12 leaves for the explanation of the subjects, as follows: (1) Declaration de la grossesse, P. A. Martini, sculp., 1776; (2) Les Précautions, P. A. Martini, sculp., 1777; (3) J'en accept l'heureux présage, Ph. Trière, sculp., 1778; (4) N'ayez pas peur, ma bonne amie, Helman, sculp., 1776; (5) C'est un fils, monsieur! C. Baquoy, sculp., 1776; (6) Les petits Parrains, C. Baquoy inc. aqua f. Patas terminavit, 1777; (7) Les Délices de la Maternité Helman, sculp., 1777; (8) L'Accord parfait, Helman, sculp., 1777; (9) Les Rendez-vous pour Marly, Carl Guttenburg, sc.; (10) Les Adieux, gravé par Delaunay le jeune, en 1777; (11) Le Rencontre au bois de Boulogne, Henri Guttenberg, sc.; (12) La Dame du Palais de la Reine, P. A. Martini, sculp., 1777.

[Freudeberg et] Moreau. Troisième Suite d'Estampes pour servir à l'histoire des Modes et du Costume en France, dans le XVIII^e siècle. Année 1783 (fleuron). A Paris, de l'imprimerie de Prault, imprimeur du Roy, quai des Augustins, 1783, fol. Avec approbation et privilège du Roy. (Le privilège valable pour six années, se trouve dans la suite précédente parue en 1777.)

Consists of 12 plates after Moreau le jeune, title and 2 leaves for the explanation of the subjects of the compositions (rarissime, as the text being in existence was for a length of time hotly disputed), which are as follows: (1) Le Lever, L. Halbou, sculp.; (2) La Petite Toilette, P. A. Martini, sculp.; (3) La Grande Toilette, A. Romanet, sculp.; (4) La Course de Chevaux, H. Guttenberg, sculp.; (5) Le Pari gagné, Camligue fec.; (6) La Parti de Wisch, J. Dambrun, sculp.; (7) Oui ou Non, N. Thomas, sculp., 1781; (8) La Petite loge, Patas, sculp.; (9) La Sortie de L'Opéra Malebeste, sculp.; (10) Le Souper fin, gravé par Helman, 1781; (11) Le Seigneur chez son fermier, J. L. Delignon, sculp.; (12) Le Vrai Bonheur, J. B. Simonet, sculp., 1782. The text, while describing the figures and surroundings, also explains the object the artist had in view. Mareau le jeune, not less than his predecessor, accomplished the task before him with signal ability. All these compositions are replete with grace and elegance, so that after "le Vrai Bonheur" he might well rest on his laurels and exclaim, "Artem cestumque repono." Of the first series, even isolated etchings or unlettered proofs, with or without borders, are very rare, and the plates with letters and tablets in white, which in reality constitute the first finished state, are with difficulty procurable. In the second state the tablet is darkened; in the third and last state each plate has the number, and the impressions begin to exhibit traces of wear. We may add that all the engravings bear the inscription, "A Paris, chez Buldet, rue de Gesvres." As regards Moreau's 24 plates of the second and third series (all without borders), they have most assuredly gone through the process of etching and other preliminary stages, but appear to have gone astray. Lucky would be the amateur who could lay hands on them. Connoisseurs have to be contented with the proofs bearing the title and the letters A. P. D. R. (avec privilège du roi). Afterwards this latest indication was suppressed, and the plates in the last stage were employed for the "Monument du Costume Physique et Moral" emanating from the indefatigable pen of Rétif de la Bretonne. The work complete in text and plates has not as yet been tested as to value at auction, but 3 or 4 copies were "à l'amiable" (privately) disposed of by MM. Clement and Morgand. The price of the book is fixed at from 8000 to 10,000 frs., though everything depends on the beauty and preservation of the copy. Whenever the three series occur separately they reach very high figures. M. Bèhague's copy of the first series with the tablets in white sold for 6520 frs., and the 2nd and 3rd series before letters (minus the title of 1783, as well as without the page of text for, and the unlettered proof of the plate "le Vrai Bonheur") were run up to 17,100 frs., in spite of the fact that the volume had a very short margin, and was very much cut into. M. Eugène Paillet's large copy of the three series with the plates in two states, viz. Freudeberg's series with the tablets in white and in black, and both Moreau's series before letters and with letters A. P. D. R., is priced by M. Morgand in his catalogue of this gentleman's library, 40,000 frs. In point of artistic execution it is indisputably the most significant book of the 18th century. The text is attributed to Rétif de la Bretonne. Gosford copy of the first and second series in 1 vol., old russia (second title mounted), 2100 frs. (1882); M. Delessert's copy of the third series was sold in 1895 for 4000 frs. The text of the first and second series is bordered; the numbering on the plates of the latter is 13 to 24 inclusive.

The illustrations are counted among the masterpieces of the artist, particularly the two medallion portraits representing Joseph II. and Marie-Antoinette, both of which exist in artists' proofs without text. The exquisite portrait of Marie-Antoinette in that state sold singly for 500 frs. The plates without the page-numbering are seldom to be met with, and command a fancy price. L. de Tinan's copy in 4to. size, in red morocco, with the arms of the Comtesse d'Artois, reached the high figure of 1600 frs. The Paillet copy, on large paper, having Moreau's plates in two states with and before the numbers, and the two portraits of Joseph II. and Marie-Antoinette in artists' proof, without text (the latter in an exceptional state, with the artists' signatures "à la pointe"), together with the etching of the plate, "la Bienfaisance de Marie-Antoinette," and bound in a sumptuous binding doublé by Cuzin, is marked by Moregand 4000 frs. Reprinted 1777 (with a new title, "Anecdotes de la Bienfaisance," chez Nyon and Laporte), and in 1781 and 1782.

We owe this fine collection to Ch. H. de Heinecken, who is the author of the text, and was aided by his sovereign and the Comte de Bruhl. The very first impression of the Elector's portrait, without the date 1750 placed above the engraver's name, and before the title of "chevalier de l'ordre de Saint-Michael" appeared beneath the painter's name, is very rare; it exists likewise in proof before letters, but is almost unobtainable. The plates were chiefly executed from designs by P. Hutin; a few unlettered proofs exist, but are of the utmost rarity.

Grateloup (J. B. de). Œuvre Gravé (1771), 9 portraits of small size, viz.: 2 portraits of Bossuet, 1 in 8vo. and a bust in 12mo., both after Rigaud; Descart after Hals, 12mo.; Dryden after Kneller, in 8vo.; Fénélon after Vivien, in 12mo.; Adrienne Lecouvreur after Coypel, 8vo.; Montesquieu after Dassier, 12mo.; Cardinal de Polignac after Rigaud, 12mo.; J.-B. Rousseau after Aved. Grateloup, an amateur artist, only took a limited number of proofs, which are very rare (£20, and more than double before letters, and fancy price for India proofs; single portraits sell according to state and rarity of impression, varying between £3 and £6 each).

They are deservedly famous for their exquisite execution by a special process invented by the artist. A fine complete set sold in 1869 for 5200 francs. Bossuet's portrait, the last (executed) of the series, is Grateloup's masterpiece. Some tentative pieces and portraits engraved by Dr. J. P. S. de Grateloup, who inherited the secret of the process from his uncle, are sometimes added.

Gravelle (Levesque de). Recueil de Pierres gravées antiques. Paris, Mariette, 1732-37, 2 vols., 4to., 101 and 104 plates (5s.)

There is a supplementary volume.

Gravelot (H. F. Bourguignon, called). Almanach Iconologique ou des Arts pour l'année 1674, orné de figures avec leurs explications par M. Gravelot. Avec privilège du Roy. *A Paris, chez Lattré, graveur, rue Saint-Jacques, à la ville de Bordeaux, 24mo., engraved throughout, engraved title by Legrand, frontispiece by Lemire, and 12 engraved plates after Gravelot by Choffard, Bacquoy, Prévost, de Longueil, and Lemire. The privilège is dated Novembre 1763, and most of the plates bear the same date.

Gravelot et Cochin. Almanach Iconologique pour l'Année 1765, et les Années suivantes jusqu'à 1781, par H. Gravelot et Cochin. Paris, chez Lattré, Graveur rue Saint Jacques, 17 vols., 16mo., engraved throughout with calendar for each year, containing general frontispiece and portrait of Gravelot by Gaucher, engraved title and 12 plates per volume, altogether 12 titles and 204 plates after Gravelot and Cochin by Aliamet, Baquoy, Choffard, Dequevauvillier, Duclos, Duflos, Gaucher, de Ghendt, Godefroy, Halbou, Ingouf, de Launay, Legrand, Lemire, Le Roy, Leveau, Lingée, de Longueil, Masquelier, Massard, Née, Nicolle, Ponce, Mme. Ponce, Prévost, Rousseau, A. de Saint-Aubin, Vauvillé, and Simonet (£25, and double in morocco, and a fancy price in a genuine Derome binding).

The titles of the first 10 volumes are all different, those of the remaining 7 are all alike. They are respectively as follows:—Les Arts, 1; les Sciences, 2 parts, 1766 and 1774; les Vertus, 1; les Etres Metaphysiques, 1; les Muses, 1; les Saisons, 1; les XII. Mois, 1; l'Homme, 1; les Etres Moraux, 1; les Vertus et les Vices, 7. Nine volumes have been engraved after Gravelot, and 8 after Cochin, the latter being superior. Complete sets are of rare occurrence. Béhague's copy, 4600 frs. De Tinan's copy (2 years missing) 1000 frs. I have collated two sets in old morocco and in calf, and in both the Almanacks for 1766 and 1769 contained only 7 and 11 plates respectively. The Gosford copy of the Almanach 1769 had only 11 plates. M. Grand-Carteret counts only 8 plates for Almanach 1766 (part 2 of "Les Sciences"), and how is that to be reconciled with his summing up of 204 plates? According to my counting only 198 plates, and according to him 200 plates, make the total. In some copies of the sets only the last 7 vols. comprise calendars; the Béhague copy had none at all.

The drawings are dispersed. Baron R. P.'s copy of the Lattré edition, containing 20 drawings of Cochin in red and black (à la sanguine et au crayon noir), 1200 frs. In the Mahérault sale 24 of Gravelot's drawings à la plume (pen and pencil) et au bistre (in brown) (as all his drawings are), 4600 frs.

Gravelot et Cochin. *Iconologie par figures ou Traité complet de la Science des Allegories en 350 figures gravées d'après les dessins de MM. Gravelot et Cochin, avec les explications relatives à chaque sujet (ouvrage utile aux artistes, aux amateurs et peuvent (sic) servir à l'éducation des jeunes personnes)*. Paris, Lattré, graveur, s.d. (1789 or 1791), 4 vols., 12mo. and 8vo., 2 frontispieces containing portraits of Cochin and Gravelot by Gaucher after Monnet and Delatour, 4 engraved titles (3 by Choffard, de Ghendt and Legrand, and one unsigned) and 202 plates (within added borders) (£3 to £4).

The second issue has the correction "pouvant" instead of "peuvent." The mention of "350 figures" on the first frontispiece of vol. 1, does not mean that there are 350 plates, but that this number of figures is represented on the plates. It follows, therefore, that not only the text differs from that of the Almanachs Iconologiques, but the additional different subjects were specially composed and engraved for this edition. (Vide Preface.) In the 12mo. edition we meet sometimes the plates before letters, and many even with the artist's name à la pointe, in which case they are real artist's proofs taken prior to the first publication of the Almanachs Iconologiques (worth quasi a fancy price).

Gravelot. Suite de petits Sujets. . . dessinés par Gravelot, gravés par J. Bacheley. A Paris, chez F. Chereau s.d., 8vo., 80 subjects published in parts of 4 and 6 plates each on 50 leaves and engraved within ornamental cartouches (£5 to £6).

Interesting collection. Gravelot was drawing-master in the military School.

Berne, chez Brounner et Haller, 1773, sm. 4to., frontispiece representing the "Serment des Trois Suisses" surrounded with 10 small compositions, medallion portrait of Haller, and 49 vignettes without text (2 to a page) after Herrliberguer, probably by Dünker (6s.).

Hamilton. Mémoires du Comte de Grammont, par le C. Antoine Hamilton; édition ornée de LXXII. portraits, gravés d'après les tableaux originaux. Londres, Edwards, s.d. (1793), 4to., vellum paper. The portraits are after Harding and Voet, by Bartolozzi, Birrell, Barker, Claessens, Clamp, Gardiner, Harding, jun., Knight, Legoux, Nogent, Ogborne, Parker, Shineker, Schiavonetti, Silvester, Tomkins, Van den Berghe, and Vandenburg (£2, and more than double in morocco).

The portraits include English and French eminent men and women. There are frequently 77 portraits, besides a view of Somerhill. Copies exist on large paper, and 5 copies were taken on largest paper in folio, with the portraits coloured on the outlines by Gardiner, to resemble drawings (£15), and one copy on vellum with the portraits coloured.

The English version of the same date is worth double, and on large paper with proof plates, £5 to £6.

Hamilton. Œuvres . . . Paris, Renouard, 1812, 3 vols., 8vo., 4 plates after Moreau by de Gendt and Trière, and 8 portraits by Saint-Aubin (12s., and treble on vellum paper with unlettered proofs, and with the etchings (rare), £5).

Naples, Morelli, 1766-7, 4 vols., roy. fol., 520 plates coloured and plain, 24 large vignettes, 8 tailpieces, and 35 magnificent letters ornamented after Beaulieu, Bracci, Cardon, Nolli, and Tierce by Lamberti and Pignatari, with text in English and French (£2 to £3).

Hancarville. Antiquités etrusques, grecques et romaines, ou les Beaux Vases grecs et romains, et les peintures rendues avec les couleurs qui leur sont propres, gravées par F. A. David, avec leurs explications par d'Hancarville. Paris, David, 1787, 5 vols., 4to. and 8vo., frontispiece dated 1785 repeated in each volume, and 361 plates, of which 183 coloured (£2 and £1 respectively).

Hancarville. Monumens de la Vie privée des Douze Césars, d'après une suite de pierres gravées sous leur règne. A Caprée, chez Sabellus (Nancy, Leclerc), 1780, 4to., frontispiece and 50 plates. The first issue has the "s" long, and the title occupies 11 lines, while in the second the "s" is short (modern), and the title has only 10 lines (£2 to £3).

Hancarville. Monumens du Culte secret des Dames romaines pour servir de suite à la Vie privée des douze Césars. A Caprée, chez Sabellus (Nancy, Leclerc) 1784, 4to., frontispiece and 50 plates (£2 to £3).

The above remark applies to this book as regards the two editions, but sometimes the reissue is predated 1780. Béhague's copy of the 2 vols. in morocco, 380 frs. They would hardly bring half now. Several times reprinted in 4to. and in 8vo., with the plates reduced. No archaeological value could be attached to these medals, as they are mostly imaginary. For the authentic medals, consult Lachaud.

Hancarville. Le Cabinet de Lampsaque, d'après une suite de pierres gravées. A Milet, chez Elephantis, s.d., frontispiece and 50 plates in bistre. Les Delices des Césars, d'après une suite de pierres gravées sous leur règne, frontispiece and 50 plates in bistre, 2 vols., roy. 8vo. (£2).

Some copies count only the two titles and 66 plates. A copy with a double set of plates (plain and coloured) and double titles in 2 vols., old morocco, realized £13. The text consists of 10 pages of preface printed in red within black border, and there should be a page of text to each subject, printed in red within 3 red-lined borders.

Hénault (Le Président). Nouvel Abrégé chronologique de l'Histoire de France. Paris, 1744, 12mo., fleuron on title and three headpieces designed and engraved by Cochin (5s.).

This edition deserves notice, as it contains the first of Cochin's illustrations for this work.

Hénault. Nouvel Abrégé chronologique de l'Histoire de France, 2^e édition. Paris, 1746, 12mo., 16 vignettes and tailpieces by Chedel, Cochin, Sornique, and Soubeyran after Cochin (3s.).

Hénault. Nouvel Abrégé chronologique de l'Histoire de France, etc., 3^{me} édition. Paris, Prault père et fils, 1749, roy. 4to., fleuron on title after Cochin, frontispiece by Lépicié after Boizot, 3 vignettes, and 36 fine tailpieces after Cochin, 3 ornamental letters (2 different) after Chedel, and 71 portraits (known as the "Odieuvre series") after Boizot, de Leu, Robert, Thomassin, and Van Loo by Aveline, Dupuis, Duchange, Edelinck, Fessard, Ficquet, Filloeu, Gaillard, Pinssio, Ravenet, Roy, Schmidt, and Thomassin (25s., and without the portraits and frontispiece, as they do not form an integral part of this edition, 10s.).

Cochin's tailpieces exist in artists' proofs without text (very rare). Delbergue's copy in blue morocco by Derome, 550 frs. The Gosford copy of the 1752 edition with supplement, dated 1756, both vols. in 1, containing 240 portraits of illustrious persons engraved by Desrochers, and the two plates of the massacre of Saint-Barthélemy and of the assassination of Henri IV. inserted, and bound in red morocco with dentelle and arms of Louis XV., was sold for 4350 frs. Mme. G. D.'s (Gab. Delesert) copy of 1752, with 33 head and tail pieces, and 215 portraits by Desrochers, 750 frs. (1895).

Hénault. Nouvel Abrégé chronologique de l'Histoire de France, etc. Paris, Prault, 1768, 2 parts, roy. 4to., frontispiece, and fleuron on each title alike by Cochin, charming portrait of Marie Leczinska by Gaucher after Nattier in the vignette heading the engraved dedication, 3 vignettes by Moreau after Cochin, 3 ornamented letters by Chedel, 30 tailpieces by Moreau, dated 1766 (some historiated with portraits or scenes), a tailpiece at the end of Louis XIV. reign, occupying the entire page, by Cochin (and sometimes with additional 35 allegorical engravings after Cochin by Aliamet, Patas, Tillard, Delignon, Delaunay, Martini, and Rousseau, preceded by an engraved title), without Cochin's 35 engravings (10s., and treble with them).

Renouard's copy on Dutch paper (very rare) in blue morocco by Derome was sold for 190 frs. Cochin's engravings are only found inserted in some copies; they did not form part of the book when published. They exist before letters and with letters before numbers, and in any case enhance the price accordingly. The vignettes and tailpieces exist in artist's proofs before letters, but are very rare. The author once possessed a copy entitled: "Estampes Allégoriques des Evenemens les plus connus de l'Histoire de France gravées d'après les dessins de M. Cochin, etc. Paris, 1768," 4to., containing 38 engravings by Cochin, 8 of them proofs before numbers, and 4 proofs before numbers and letters, as well as the complete series of vignettes and culs-de-lampe by Cochin in artist's proofs without text on Dutch paper, besides Hénault's portrait and the portrait of Queen Marie Leczinska before letters and an additional title on India paper. This title proves conclusively that Cochin's series of allegorical plates was published separately, subsequently to and not simultaneously with the above work. The fleurons on titles, the ornamented letters, and the large tailpiece at the end of the reign of Louis XIV. after Cochin, are reproductions from the 1749 edition. M. Portalis possesses Cochin's first 25 original drawings. Considering the bulky contents, the book is sparsely illustrated.

Hénault. François II., tragédie en prose. Paris, 1747, 8vo., allegorical vignette by Soubeyran after Cochin fils (3s.).

Hénault. Pièces de Théâtre, en vers et en prose (par le président Hénault), 1770, 8vo., fleuron on title by de

The following are the titles of the 6 theatrical pieces: Cornélie, vestale, 1769; François II., roi de France, 1768; La Petite Maison, 1769; Le Jaloux de lui-même, 1769; Le Reveil d'Epiménide, 1769; et, Le Temple des Chimères, 1770, with separate paging. Gouwen, etc. (20s., and more on large paper).

More particularly so "avant les clous;" plate at page 145, vol. 2, having by accident been broken, it was repaired with nails, the imprint of which is visible on the border. In the Brunet sale Longepierre's copy, in old red morocco, 1500 frs. There is not the remotest chance of these prices being again realized. Picart (15s., and double in morocco).

Picart's plates are, with slight alterations, copied from those executed by Diepenbecke for the "Temple des Muses" of 1655, with text by Michel de Marolles. The Dutch edition of 1731 contains the first impressions. Reprinted 1742 and 1749. Morel de Vindé's copy of the 1731 edition, with the 25 rejected plates by Diepenbecke before the numbers, including the rare plate of "Salmacis et Hermaphrodite" by Bloemaert, and the portraits of Diepenbecke and Picart, inserted, realized 810 francs.; Béhague's copy in red morocco, 610 frs.; R. Lion's copy in citron morocco, 230 frs.; a copy of the 1742 edition, in green morocco with the arms of Montmorency-Luxembourg, brought in the same sale 445 frs. All these prices are the more misleading, as the book is very little in request now. Of course stress should be laid on the bibliogistic beauty, which formed the main attraction of the several copies in question.

These, among the first of Eisen's illustrations, are pretty and attractive.

Labé (Louise Charly, dite, surnommée la belle Cordière). Œuvres . . . A Lyon, chez les frères Duplain, 1762, 8vo., frontispiece, head and tail pieces after Nonnotte by Daullé (the last work done by that artist, as he died soon afterwards). Only 500 copies printed, besides 25 on large fine Dutch paper, 12 of them with the illustrations coloured (en camaïeu) (12s., £2, and £5 to £6 respectively).

Privately printed. This plate was designed by Moreau in 1813, the year in which he died.

La Borde (De). Choix de Chansons mises en musique par M. de La Borde, premier valet de chambre ordinaire du Roi, Gouverneur du Louvre, ornées d'estampes par J. M. Moreau, dédiées à Madame la Dauphine (Marie-Antoinette). A Paris, chez de Lormel, imprimeur de l'Académie royale de musique, rue du Foin-Saint-Jacques, 1773, 4 vols. roy. 8vo.

Vol. 1 engraved title after Moria and Mlle. Vendôme, with fleuron designed and engraved by Moreau in 1774, dedication engraved by Masquelier after Moreau, and 25 plates designed and engraved by Moreau le jeune; vol. 2, title containing the portrait of the Dauphine, engraved by Née and Masquelier after Le Bouteux, and 25 plates after Le Bouteux by Née (13) and Masquelier (12); vol. 3, title engraved by Née and Masquelier after Le Barbier, and 25 plates after Le Barbier by Née (12) and Masquelier (13); vol. 4, title engraved by Née and Masquelier after Le Barbier, and 25 plates after Le Barbier (18) and St. Quentin (7), by Née (12) and Masquelier (13). The authors of the "Chansons" set to music by La Borde are the following: Bernard, le comte de Bissy, Chabanon de Maugry, Colardeau, le chevalier de Chastellux, Dorat, de la Motte, de la Sablière, Le Prieur, Marmontel, Clément Marot, la Comtesse de Murat, Moncrif, le chevalier de Ménilglaise, de Non, François de Neufchâteau, le chevalier d'Orleans, Pannard, de Plumeteau, J. B. Rousseau, Ségui, de Saint Alphonse, Saint-Lambert, Voltaire and La Borde himself who furnished the greater number of all. The music for the "chanson" called "Le Concert" (11, 129) was composed by Lady Hamilton. The text and the music of the whole work were engraved by Moria and Mlle. Vendôme.—The portrait "à la lyre" of La Borde, by Masquelier after Denon, though not executed before 1774 (simultaneously with Moreau's fleuron on title), forms an integral part of the book. This cannot be said of the interesting portrait of Madame La Borde, designed and engraved by the same artists, as it is very rare, very few copies containing it, and it represents an item of significance in itself. The 26 plates of the first volume exist in unlettered proofs, and in an unfinished state (etchings), but are of the utmost rarity, particularly the latter. The second plate in this volume has been engraved twice, the first state as a specimen for the prospectus without tablet. It is a matter of regret that the work was taken out of Moreau's hands, owing to some disagreement, and that the master was not given a free hand to accomplish what he had so brilliantly begun. Le Bouteux, Le Barbier, and Saint-Quentin, who were entrusted with the illustrations of the remaining 3 vols., were second-rate draughtsmen, and so were the engravers Née and Masquelier. Moreau's work is a masterpiece of composition, replete with spirit and delicacy of execution, while his successors could not rival him even at a distance.—There are extant the etchings of the vols. 2, 3, and 4, but only a very few unlettered proofs of the 78 plates exist. The frontispiece to vol. 2 should contain the portrait of La Borde which was afterwards replaced by the profile of the Dauphine (Marie Antoinette). Although some copies are larger than others, especially those of square size (small quarto) it is, after such a lapse of time, and the book having become so rare, very difficult to decide whether these were intended for large paper, or if such were ever published. There are some copies on bluish paper, and this might have been intended as ordinary paper, marking a difference from white Dutch paper copies. Copies with the plates before the numbers are known to exist. One copy was taken on vellum, and this containing the original drawings by Moreau, Le Bouteux, Le Barbier, and Saint-Quentin, and in morocco with dentelle by Derome, and said to have belonged to Marie Antoinette, was acquired in the Radziwill sale (1865) by the duc d'Aumale for the small sum of 7050 frs.—La Borde's music is not disagreeable, but lacks originality, and teems with errors, not only as regards harmony, but also in other respects.

The progress by leaps and bounds which La Borde has made in public estimation for the last 30 years or so is worth recording. Pixérecourt's copy in morocco with many etchings sold in 1838 for 30 frs.; Renouard's copy uncut, with Moreau's plates in unlettered proofs, portraits of La Borde and of Mme. La Borde (the latter rarissime), unfinished proof of the Dedication to Marie Antoinette, heading the first volume with the arms on white ground, and numerous etchings in 1854, 235 frs. (since acquired by M. E. Paillet, who completed the series of etchings, except two, and had it covered by Cuzin in a rich mosaic binding doublé, and is marked by Morgand 25,000 frs.). Yemeniz' copy in red morocco (1867), 805 frs.; Benzon's copy in red morocco by Derome (1875), 1555 frs.; Lebeuf de Montgermont's copy (1876), 4250 frs.; Em. Martin's copy in old red morocco, 6400 frs. (Moreau's 25 unlettered proofs by themselves in the same sale, 3200 frs.); Baron R. P.'s copy in red morocco, by Trautz, 3100 frs. (1882) ; Delbergue-Cormont's copy in red morocco, by Trautz, 3000 frs. (1883) ; R. Lion's copy in red morocco "à l'oiseau," by Derome, 5600 frs. (1885) ; Comte de Lignerolles' copy in old red morocco, 4620 frs. (1894). Of course prices vary between £20 and £200, according to state of plates and binding. It is incontestably one of the prettiest, if not the prettiest book of the 18th century, and takes rank with the Fermiers-Généraux edition of Lafontaine's Contes et Nouvelles.

Ponce, and 132 plates of music (20s. to 30s., and fancy price for a large-paper copy with the vignettes containing portraits of musicians or poets in artists' proofs without text).

(1894). Price of the binding. M. Morgand offered M. E. Paillet's copy on vellum, with the portraits and plate on stout Dutch paper, and bound in morocco by Simier, for 400 frs.

The book abounds in eventful records of the period. Louis XIV., forsaken by his allies, who combine against him; the Prince of Orange disembarks in England, and deposes James II. in 1689; Louis XIV.'s son marching at the head of great armies, invading the Palatinate to make secure his frontiers, and furnishes a fleet to James II., etc. She relates all these events with great verve and spirit. The work contains also a mine of anecdotes, and her description of Louis XIV.'s court shows her to be one of the shrewdest and sprightliest observers of the time.

La Fontaine. Fables Choiesies, mises en vers par J. de La Fontaine. Paris, chez Desaint, Saillant et Durand, 1755-1759, 4 vols., folio, frontispiece with bust of La Fontaine after Oudry, finished by Dupuis and engraved by Cochin, portrait of Oudry after Largillière by Tardieu (to judge from so many subscription copies in National Libraries being without this portrait, it must be inferred that it does not form an integral part of the work, but was added afterwards; M. Morgand, in his catalogue for 1889, says: portrait d'Oudry ajouté), and 275 plates after Oudry by Aubert, Aveline, Baquoy, Beauvais, Beauvarlet, Cars, Chedel, Chenu, Chevillet, Cochin, Cousinet (Elisabeth), Dupuis, Duret, de Fehrt, Fessard, Flipart, Floding, Gaillard, Gallimard, Lebas, Legrand, Lemire, Lempereur, Marvie, Menil, Moitte, Ouvrier, Pasquier, Pelletier, Pitre-Martenasie, Poletnich, Prévost, Radigues, Riland, Rode, Salvador, Sornique, Surugue, Tardieu, and Teucher (£4 on ordinary or bluish paper, £6 to £8 on Dutch paper, £10 to £12 on large imperial paper, £20 to £30 on large Dutch paper, Atlas folio, and more in old morocco according to state and preservation).

The impressions are first and best in those copies, having the ensign in the first plate of 171st fable before the inscription of "Le Singe et le Léopard." Stress should be laid on that fact, but copies with only the word "Leopard" on the ensign contain early impressions and are worth acquiring. Montenault, who edited the book, entrusted Cochin with the supervision of Oudry's designs, and if much could be advanced in favour of the delineation of the figures, the compositions as regards the drawings of the animals leave much to be desired. Quentin-Bauchart's large Dutch paper copy, in red morocco with dentelle by Derome père, 2400 frs.; Delbergue's copy in equal condition, 2550 frs.; Benzon's copy, in green morocco with dentelle, and the arms of the maréchal de Montmorency-Luxembourg, 6100 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy, in red morocco, with the arms of the duc d'Aumont, 6000 frs. (1894)—Oudry's 276 original drawings, executed between 1729 and 1734, and bound in 2 vols. in green morocco, were sold in the de Bure sale for 1800 frs., and resold in the Solar sale for 6100 frs. The purchaser, M. E. Pereire, disposed of them to M. L. Roederer of Reims for 30,000 frs. Cochin's retouched drawings of the figures were dispersed, and a certain number of them are now in M.

Rodrigues' collection. Copies with the plates "gouachées" (coloured by hand in imitation of drawings) are not appreciated.

La Fontaine. Fables Choiesies, mises en vers par M. de La Fontaine. Genève (Cazin), 1777, 2 vols., 16mo., frontispiece by Delaunay after Marillier (3s.).

The Cazin edition, Londres, 1780, with the frontispiece by Delvaux after Marillier, is of similar value.

Reprinted with the same plates in 6 vols., 16mo., and 4 vols., 8vo., 1796 (25s.).

- La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles. Amsterdam, Pierre Brunel, 1726, 2 vols., 12mo., frontispiece bearing an escutcheon : chez Henri Desbordes, and 11 plates, not signed (5s.).
- La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles. A series of 38 plates (with stanzas of verses beneath each by the poet Roi), known under the name of "Suite de De Larmessin" (circa 1736), oblong folio. The plates are divided in the following order of artists, viz. :— After Boucher by De Larmessin : Le Magnifique, La Courtisane amoureuse, Le Calendrier des Vieillards, Le Fleuve Scammandre. After Eisen by Tardieu : La Gageure des trois Commères, Le Cas de Conscience, Le Gascon. After Eisen by L. Le Grand : Promettre est un et tenir est un autre. After Lancret by De Larmessin : Les Remois, A Femme avare galant escroc, Le Gascon puni, Le petit Chien qui secoue de l'argent et des pierreries, Nicaise, Le Faucon, On ne s'avise jamais de tout, Les Deux Amis, Les Oies de Frère Philippe, Pâté d'anguille, Les Troqueurs, La servante justifiée. After Le Clerc by De Larmessin : Le Rossignol, Le Faiseur d'Oreilles et le Raccommodeur des moules. After Laurin by Aveline : L'Anneau de Hans Carvel. After Lorrain by D. Sornique : La Chose impossible. After Le Mesle by Fillœul : Le Cuvier, La Clochette. After Paterre by Fillœul : La Courtisane amoureuse, La Matrone d'Ephèse, Le Cocu battu et content, Le Savetier, Le Baiser donné, Le Baiser rendu, Le Glouton. After and by Paterre : Les Aveux indiscrets. After Vleughels by De Larmessin : Frère Luce, La Jument du compère Pierre, Le Bast, Le Villageois qui cherche son veau.

In the execution of "A Femme avare galant escroc, Le Faucon, Le Gascon puni, Le petit Chien, Les Remois, On ne s'avise jamais de tout, Les Oies de Frère Philippe, La Servante justifiée, Le Rossignol," and "Frère Luce," De Larmessin was assisted by Schmidt, and "Nicaise" was engraved by the latter (£40 to £50). The series complete is of the utmost rarity.

La Fontaine. Contes de La Fontaine. S. l., 1743, 2 vols., 12mo., pretty frontispiece, not signed, 2 fleurons on titles, and 2 arabesque vignettes (5s.).

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers . . . Amsterdam (Paris, David jeune), 1743 or 1745, 2 vols., post 8vo., titles in red and black, frontispiece signed Lebas, sometimes repeated in vol. 2, one headpiece La Fontaine writing after Cochin by Fessard, 2 fleurons on titles and 69 vignettes after Cochin by Chedel, Fessard, and Ravenet (not signed) (12s.).

Of all the illustrations of La Fontaine's Contes, these are the least suggestive, though original and spirited in composition. Some of the vignettes are to be met with in artist's proofs without text. Three of the vignettes, viz. A Femme avare galant escroc, On ne s'avise jamais de tout, and Le Remois, originally designed by Cochin, were substituted by Lancret's compositions engraved by de Larmessin (in reduced form). E. Quentin-Bauchart's copy in old red morocco, 1350 frs. (absurd); Delbergue's large-paper copy, 720 frs. (overpaid). M. Morgand marks M. E. Paillet's copy in red morocco, by Derome, 500 frs.

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers. Amsterdam, 1747, 2 vols., post 8vo., fleuron on titles, frontispiece and 7 unlettered and unsigned plates (3 in first and 4 in second volume) (15s. to 20s.).

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers. Amsterdam (Paris, Barbou), 1762, 2 vols., post 8vo., portraits of La Fontaine after Rigault, of Eisen after Vespré, both by Ficquet, 2 fleurons on titles, 2 large vignettes on blank pages, on the reverse of one "Joconde," and on the other "Les Oies de Frère Philippe," 2 pieces heading first tale in each volume, 52 tailpieces (23 and 29 respectively, the last but one comprising Choffard's portrait), all signed by Choffard, except 2 tailpieces beneath "La Clochette" (p. 221, vol. 1) and "La Cruche" (p. 292, vol. 2), and 80 plates (39 and 41) after Eisen by Aliamet, Baquoy, Choffard, Delafosse, Flipart, Lemire, Leveau, de Longueil, and Ouvrier (£8 to £10, and double in morocco, and more according to state and preservation).

The famous Fermiers-Généraux edition, called so because they defrayed the cost of publication. It must be pronounced Eisen and Choffard's masterpiece, as in the illustrations of both the beautiful and the elegant are combined. Some copies on stout paper, bound at the time either in red or blue morocco with dentelle, the back having a special design "à la grecque" by Gravelot, were intended as gifts, and therefore called "de présent" (for obvious reasons they generally contain none of the découvertes plates). The 6 uncovered plates originally published were: (1) Le Cas de Conscience, (2) Le Diable de Papefiguière, (3) Les Lunettes, (4) Le Bât, (5) Le Rossignol, (6) Richard Minutolo. The first two are of frequent occurrence, while the remaining four, particularly the fourth, are extremely rare. The plate L'Imitation d'Anacréon is sometimes découverte; the plate of the "Roi Caudaule" has equally undergone a modification. The plate "Le Remède" has sometimes the curtains ornamented and other parts of it in a finished state. The Société d'Amateurs rejected some plates on account of their free nature, as "le Tableau" and "la Servante Justifiée," and others by reason of their indifferent execution. The titles of the refused plates are: (1) Le Cocu battu et content; (2) Le Savetier; (3) La Servante Justifié; (4) La Gageure des trois Commères (second plate); (5) Le Calendrier des Vieillards; (6) A Femme avare galant escroc; (7) On ne s'avise Jamais de tout; (8) La Coupe enchantée; (9) Le Petit Chien; (10) La Clochette; (11) Le Juge de Mesle; (12) Sœur Jeanne; (13) Les Oies du frère Philippe; (14) L'Oraison de saint Julien; (15) Les Rémois; (16) Comment l'esprit vient aux filles; (17) Le Tableau; (18) Le Contrat; (19) Le Rossignol (unlike that quoted above); (20) Le Gascon puni; (21) Le Pâté d'Anguilles; (22) Le Baiser rendu; (23) La Mandragore; (24) Le Berceau et Mazet. Generally they are of smaller size. Choffard's charming pieces exist in artist's proofs without text. The generally adopted view that in copies with the earliest impressions Choffard's medallion portrait is within a white tablet (the lines not yet filled in), does not hold good, as we meet Choffard's portrait in the 1764 edition without the lines and without the name. La Bédoyère's copy (1862) had La Fontaine's portrait in 8 different states, but the portrait having beneath the fable "du Loup et de l'Agneau," was never executed for this edition. Eisen's portrait having been engraved on thin copper, is seldom in a fine state.—The copy having Eisen's original drawings was presented by Comte de Gervilliers to Madame Doche. It was afterwards sold in the first double sale (1863) for 3520 frs., and is now included in the Duc d'Aumale's library at Chantilly. Madame de Pompadour's copy in red morocco, with her arms, in the Nodier sale (1844) fetched 240 frs. Now it is the property of Baron de La Roche-Lacarelle.

Comtesse du Barry's copy with her device, "Boutez en Avant," was marked in Fontaine's Catalogue 3000 frs. The superb copy in a rich Mosaic binding by Derôme père, which belonged, in turn, to the duc de la Vallière, to Naigeon, to F. Didot, to Comte de la Bédoyère, to Brunet (in whose sale it was sold for 7000 frs.), and to Benzon, from whom it changed hands to M. Roederer of Reims for 13,000 frs. Renouard's copy, bound in 4 vols. with double plates, Choffard's vignettes in artist's proof without text, divers proofs of the portraits and Eisen's 16 original drawings on vellum of the rejected plates, which was sold in 1854 for 1100 frs., is now in the library of the late Baron James-Edouard de Rothschild. Marquis de Ganay's copy in red morocco with rich dentelle was sold for 4700 frs., and resold in the R. Lion sale for 4645 frs. Béhague's copy in green morocco 4600 frs. The Delbergue copy "broché" 2900 frs., and a collection of etchings, of rejected plates, portraits, etc., 7250 frs.

The edition of a smaller size with Eisen's plates, but without Choffard's vignettes, and bearing the date 1762 (executed as an experiment only of a tentative nature), is valued at from £3 to £4. The reprint of 1792 and the 2 counterfeits of 1764 and 1777 have the plates reversed. An undated edition, 2 vols., post 8vo., Londres, contains the original plates copied by Martinet. Copies of the reprint of 1792, with the date 1762 on title, are firstly of a larger size, then the tailpiece placed after La Fontaine's life, representing his tomb, is not in the original, and lastly, the date 1792 is distinctly visible beneath the tailpiece on the last page.

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers. Amsterdam, 1764, 2 vols., post 8vo., portrait of La Fontaine, fleuron on titles (first signed C. Boily), large vignette and headpiece to each volume, and 60 tailpieces, not signed (copied from Choffard, some reduced and some enlarged, with the position of the figures reversed, as is the case with the plates, and the others added), and 80 plates after Eisen, several of which bear the signature of Boily in the engraving (£2, and double in morocco).

La Fontaine's portrait is sometimes engraved by Savart, sometimes by Macret.

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers, Amsterdam, 1767, 2 vols., 8vo., text within borders, portrait, frontispiece in vol. 2, 6 vignettes and 80 plates, not signed (£2).

The 4 plates above the original number are 1 in "Le Faucon," 1 in "La Coupe enchantée," 1 in "La Mandragore," and 1 tailpiece representing La Fontaine's tomb, and placed after his Life.

La Fontaine. Contes et Nouvelles en vers. Paris, de l'imprimerie de P. Didot, l'an III. de la République, 1795, 2 vols., roy. 4to., vellum paper, plates.

Vol. 1 contains vii. pages devoted to a Life of La Fontaine, 20 plates, and 282 pages of text; vol. 2 counts 334 pages. This limited edition was intended to be ornamented with 80 plates, including portrait, after Fragonard, and executed by the first artists of the period; the fates willed that it should appear in 1795, the Morrow of the Terror. Most book-lovers were, through force of circumstances, scattered, reduced to poverty, and amidst this political storm had to care for their lives, and could give little thought to the possession of fine editions of artistic works. The consequence was that the first two parts (out of 8 intended to publish) containing 20 engravings failed to obtain a sufficient number of subscribers. Fragonard, disheartened by this failure, seems to have thrown up the work. An appeal to Lebarbier, Monnet, Touzé, and Mallet to come to the rescue proved without avail, and so the publication was discontinued. Two copies are known with the plates on Dutch paper, but with the text on the same paper no copy is known to exist. In the ordinary copies which were the only ones offered for sale, only 20 plates in vol. 1 are to be found, but the earlier impressions are before the numbers and without the artists' signatures, or only "à la pointe sèche." Altogether 37 compositions were in course of publication, but the last 17 (they are counted 18, "Le Cocu battu et content" having been done again with larger figures) were, through the events mentioned above, left unfinished and unpublished. A few artists' proofs were taken from these half-finished plates, and these are of the utmost rarity. A complete collection of the plates and etchings has up to the present remained undetected. Em. Martin's copy, containing 33 of the etchings, besides Deveria's 60 original drawings and additional plates, 4800 frs. The copy of M. E. Paillet, one of 3 copies (the other 2 are that of M. Beraldi, and the one acquired by M. Roederer in the Sieurin sale for 20,000 frs.), known to have the largest number of plates, containing the series of the 20 plates in two states (etchings and finished state on Dutch paper before the numbers); 14 out of the 17 etchings; 11 finished proofs (of these etchings, 6 tirage ancien and 5 tirage moderne all before letters); 2 plates for "le Cocu battu et content" (etching and finished unlettered proof); Choffard's fleuron on the title in artist's proof without text; the original cover for both parts as originally issued, is marked by Margand 18,000 frs. M. de la Bedoyère's copy had the text printed on vellum. The Bibliothèque du Roi acquired Prince Galitzin's copy in his sale, also on vellum.

The magnificent collection formed by M. de La Live de Jully, consisting chiefly of works of the French school, was sold in 1770. La Live de Jully. Collection de Portraits pour faire suite aux Hommes illustres, 50 portraits in folio (£5 to £6).

This work of the amateur artist is rarely to be met with, as only a few copies were printed for presents. The author intended it as a supplement to Perrault's "Hommes illustres." The portraits are numbered 65 to 114, designed after the best-known originals, and engraved, says the author, in the manner of Van Dyck. Augustin de Saint-Aubin, whose pupil La Live was, has apparently touched them up, and M. E. Bocher has even included them in his fine catalogue of the "Œuvre de Saint-Aubin." The following is the list of the persons figuring in the collection: Cardinal de Retz, Cardinal de Polignac, Bossuet, Fénelon, Fléchier, Mascaron, Nicole, Quesnel, Malebranche, Bayle, Abbé de Rancé, Maréchal de Créquy, Comte de Bussy-Rabutin, Vauban, Catinat, Bourdaloue, Massillon, Moréri, B. de Montfaucon, P. Porée, Duc de Villars, Duguay-Trouin, Mathieu Molé, Omer Talon, Comte d'Avaux, Boucherat, Lamoignon, D'Argenson, René Pucelle, Mézerai, Saint-Evremont, Félibien, Cassini, La Bruyère, Dacier, Rollin, Rapin-Toyras, Segrais, Thomas Corneille, Boileau-Despréaux, Chaulieu, J. B. Rousseau, Dufresnoy, Jouvenet, H. Rigaud, François Lemoyne, Puget, Girardon, André le Nostre, and La Lande.

Longus. Les Amours pastorales de Daphnis et Chloé (traduites du grec par Amyot), avec figures. S.l. (Paris, Quillau), 1718, post 8vo., frontispiece after Coypel, 28 plates after Philippe d'Orléans (the Regent) by B. Audran; 1 plate by comte de Caylus, known under the name of the "Petits pieds," 1 vignette by Scotin, and capital letters ornamented (£8 to £10, and double in morocco, and more according to binding).

The plate of the "Petits pieds" does not form an integral part of the book, as it was not engraved before 1728. Some copies exist on fine paper. Brunet's copy, in a rich mosaic binding by Padeloup, was acquired by Baron de La Roche Lacarelle for 6000 frs. The Regent's own copy, in a rich mosaic binding by Padeloup, with his arms in centre, acquired by M. Quentin-Bauchart for 13,000 frs., changed hands in his sale to M. Delbergue-Cormont for 18,500 frs., from whom it passed to the Comte de Mosbourg for only 10,750 frs. Chastre de Changé's (the Regent's chamber valet as well as friend and secretary, who was also entrusted with the supervision of the publication) copy, containing an original drawing à la plume of the "Petits pieds" attributed to the Regent, another drawing of the same by Massé, further Comte de Caylus's etching, and some unfinished engravings, together with the scheme of the engravings in the Regent's autograph, the copy having also the margins covered with autograph critical notes by the savant Lancelot, has passed through several hands, and is now in the library of the Duc d'Aumale at Chantilly. A copy in red morocco by Derome, 1200 frs.; Marquis de Ganay's copy in red morocco, with broad dentelle by Padeloup, 2900 frs., resold in the Rich. Lion sale for 1455 frs. The Turner copy in green morocco, with dentelle and arms of the Duc de Montmorency-Luxembourg, 2160 frs. M. Daguin is the fortunate possessor of the charming copy covered with a splendid binding which may be considered a masterpiece by Monnier. 'Comte de Lignerolles' copy in blue morocco, with dentelle by Bradel ainé, 1200 frs. (1894); L. Leblanc's copy in calf, 200 frs.; Bordier's copy, morocco by Thouvenin, 147 frs. In the reprint of 1745 the date of 1718 was left unaltered on the frontispiece, and frequently we meet with copies without the printed title, having apparently been removed so as to make believe that it was the original edition. The difference could, however, be easily detected, as the initial letter in the preface of the reprint is not engraved, the vignette on the first page is different, and the paging differs from the original, for while the latter counts 164 pages, the reprint has only 156 pages. The latter has 3 additional vignettes, besides 4 charming tailpieces by Cochin, and 20 pages of "Notes sur les Amours de Daphnis et Chloé" by A. Lancelot.

Longus. Les Amours pastorales de Daphnis et Chloé. S.l. (Paris, Coustelier), 1731, 12mo., title red and black, frontispiece, not signed, 8 plates after Scotin, and 5 fleurons, not signed (8s. to 10s., and more on large paper in 4to.). A copy has been taken on vellum. Reprinted 1745 (5s.).

Longus. Les Amours pastorales de Daphnis et Chloé. S.l. (Paris), 1745, 12mo., frontispiece after Coypel, 29 plates after Ph. d'Orleans by Audran, and 4 tailpieces after Cochin (20s., and double on large paper 4to.).

Reprint of the 1718 edition, but the date of 1718 was not removed from the frontispiece. The printed title, however, bears 1745, and the capital letter in the preface is not engraved, and the edition has only 156 pages, while that of 1718 counts 164 pages. The first vignette is also different, but it has in addition 3 other vignettes heading each part, and 4 tailpieces by Cochin.

The plate of the "Petits pieds" differs from that usually found added to the 1718 edition. M. de Lacarelle's copy in red morocco by Derome, with the arms of Madame de Pompadour, 3500 frs.; M. Testart de St. Quentin's large Dutch paper copy, with the plates within double borders in old red morocco, 72 frs. (1894).

Marguérite de Navarre. Contes et Nouvelles de Marguérite de Valois, reine de Navarre, mis en beau langage, accommodés au goût de ce temps, et enrichis de figures en taille-douce. Amsterdam, George. Gallet, 1708, 2 vols., 12mo., frontispiece by Harrewyn for both vols. alike, and 72 half-page vignettes by Harrewyn, who has signed several (£1).

The illustrations are different from those of 1698, which are attributed to Romain de Hooghe. Béhague's copy, 100 frs.; Earl of Ashburnham's copy, 2 vols. in 1, in old French yellow morocco, full gilt back with devices, line sides with arms of the Comtesse de Verrue, £27 (1897).

Marguérite de Navarre. Les Nouvelles. Edition ornée de très-belles planches dessinées par M. Freudeberg et exécutées par les plus célèbres graveurs de Paris. Les vignettes et culs-de-lampe sont dessinées et gravées (sic) par M. Dunker. A Berne, chez Beat Louis Walthard et la société typographique et se trouve à Paris, Londres, Amsterdam et Leipzig, 1778, 2 parts (all published), 8 plates after Freudeberg by C. Guttenberg, de Launay, Longueil, and 8 vignettes and 8 tailpieces after and by Dunker (20s. to 25s.).

The work was intended to be completed in 18 parts, at 4 frs. per part, but on the reverse of the covers the publishers announce the reasons by which they were prompted to cease at this early stage. They contemplated that single parts, being insignificant as to size and contents, might easily get lost or mislaid with subscribers, and therefore resolved to issue parts 3 to 6 in one to complete vol. 1, and the remaining 12 parts in the form of vols. 2 and 3.

Marguérite de Navarre. Heptaméron français ou les Nouvelles de Marguérite, reine de Navarre. Berne, chez la Nouvelle Société typographiques, 1780-81, 3 vols., 8vo., frontispiece after Dunker by Eichler to each volume, 73 plates after Freudeberg by Guttenberg (2), Halbou (24), Henriquez (1), de Launay jeune (1), de Longueil (22), Le Roy (16), Mmes. Duflos and Thiébault (6), and one without signature; 72 vignettes and 72 tailpieces after Dunker by Dunker, Eichler, Pillet, and Richter (£4 to £5, and in morocco according to state).

Comte de Lignerolles' copy, in red morocco, large dentelle by Derome, 8320 frs. (1894); B. Maglione's copy, in morocco, with dentelle à la Derome by Cuzin, 662 frs.; E(mile) G(onse)'s copy, in morocco by Hardy, 157 frs. An incorrect edition from the point of view of text, inaptly revised by J. Rodolph de Sinner, which is unfaithful to the original, but the illustrations, in spite of their stiffness, possess a certain charm. Vol. 3 alone has all the numbers beneath the engravings, but as they are placed on the lower margin, they are frequently cut away by the binder. The paper of the last volume is also of inferior quality, and sometimes very thin. In vol. 1, after page 166, the pagination starts again at 161, and counts on to the end. The vignettes and tailpieces exist in artists' proofs, but are extremely rare. The 1792 edition, with new titles in caligraphic characters and only one frontispiece, is worth £3. Some of the engravings exist in 4to. without numbers.

Marguérîte de Navarre. Heptaméron (German translation of the Contes de la reine de Navarre). Berne, 1791-96, 2 vols., 8vo., plates after Freudeberg and vignettes after Dunker (30s. and 40s.).

The interest of this edition is enhanced, as a certain number of Freudeberg's plates are drawn in bistre, red, and blue. After the 26th "nouvelle," the German text is only a summary of the Contes, which enabled the translator to reduce the work to 2 vols.

Marguérîte de Navarre. Contes et Nouvelles de Marguérîte de Valois, faisant suite aux Contes de J. Boccace. Londres, 1784, 8 vols., 12mo., 72 numbered plates after Freudeberg by Jourdan. Page 22 of the last volume being the conclusion of the Contes, is followed by 2 Nouvelles by Grazzini with a plate engraved to each (not signed) (10s., and more on large paper, 8vo.).

Molière. Suite d'Estampes des principaux Sujets des Comédies de Molière, gravées sur les esquisses de Charles Coypel (par T. Joullain), dédiée au public en 1726. Se vend à Paris, chez Surugue, s.d., frontispiece and 5 plates, oblong folio (£12 to £15).

Interesting series, but unfortunately interrupted after the fifth scene of comedy. The figure on the frontispiece should represent Charles Coypel, and in the "George Daudin" could be recognized the portrait of Molière. The 5 plates are for "George Daudin," "M. de Pourceaugnac," "L'Ecole des Femmes," "Les Femmes Savantes," and "Psyché." The last is a masterpiece. From the archæological point of view they faithfully render the costume and scenery of the period; very rare. Mme. Lefilleul had them re-engraved in reduced form by de Mare.

Molière. Œuvres . . . Nouvelle édition. Paris, 1734, 6 vols., roy. 4to., portrait after Coypel by Lepicié, fleuron on title of each volume alike, 33 plates after Boucher, by Laurent Cars, and 198 vignettes and tailpieces (several duplicates) after Boucher, Blondel, and Oppenord, by Joullain and Laurent Cars (£8 to £10, and in morocco according to state).

Boucher's masterpiece is one of the finest illustrated books of the first part of the last century. Some copies are said to exist on large Dutch paper, sm. folio. This assertion has been considerably weakened by the fact that Mme. de Pompadour's copy, announced as large paper, differs very little, if at all, as regards size, from the ordinary copies. Baron Roger Portalis, its present owner, pronounces this point to be very doubtful. In the first issue, line 12, page 360, vol. 6, reads "comteese" instead of "comtesse." In vol. 4 there should be for "Le Sicilien" a "carton" (extra illustrated leaves) consisting of pages 131, 132, 133, and 134, in duplicate with the head-vignette similar to those of "Le Mariage forcé," "Sganarelle," and "Les Facheux," and a different ornamental head letter, but only very few copies possess it. Again, in vol. 1 in "L'Etourdi," page 8 contains 29 lines of text, while in the second issue the last 2 verses have been transferred to page 9. The copy of the "Œuvre de Boucher," as well as the collections Rothschild and Roederer, contain the plates engraved by Laurent Cars in state of unfinished proof etchings. The 32 original pencil drawings in the sale of the library of Baron Jérôme Pichou, in 1869, reached the respectable sum of 22,900 frs. They were acquired from the cabinets of Paignon-Dijouval, Morel de Vindé, and of Soleinne. To them Baron Pichou added the plates in original proofs, and the complete series of etchings, the whole forming a vol. in 4to. This fine collection is now in the library left by the late Baron James-Edouard de Rothschild. M. E. Paillet possessed Mirabeau's copy in old red morocco, with cypher on back and on sides the arms of Prince Caraman-Chimey, marked by Morgand 5000 frs. Béhague's copy, in old calf, 880 frs.; Gosford's copy, in old blue morocco by Anguerraud, 2050 frs.; another copy, uncut, in the same sale, 3000 frs.; a series of plates in folio with all the etchings (minus one) was sold in the same sale for 1650 frs.; M. G. Delessert's copy in old red morocco, 210 frs. (1895). Mme. Lefilleul had Boucher's plates re-engraved in 8vo. by de Mare.

Molière. Select comedies in French and English. London, Watts, 1732, 8 vols., 12mo., portrait by Gucht after Mignard, and 16 plates by V. der Gucht, Foudrinier, and others after Coypel and Hogarth (10s. to 15s.).

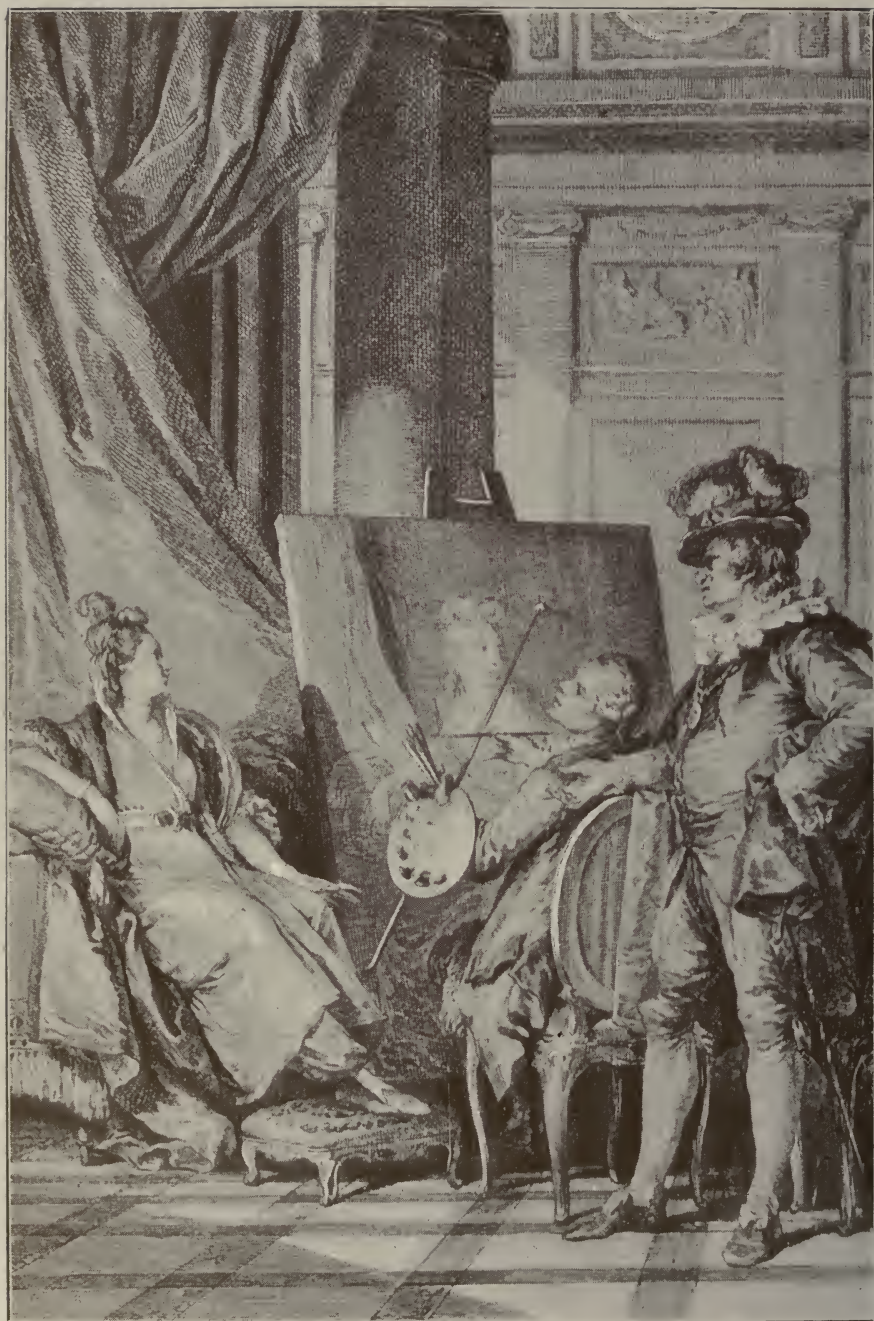

Molière. Works of, French and English. London, Watts, 1739, 10 vols., 12mo. The translation is attributed to Mr. H. Baker and the Rev. Mr. Miller, portrait and plates (reprinted from the previous edition) (20s. to 25s.).

Molière. Œuvres . . . nouvelle édition, revue, corrigée et augmentée d'une nouvelle vie de l'auteur et de la "Princesse d'Elide," toute en vers, telle qu'elle se joue à présent, imprimée pour la première fois; ornée de très-belles figures gravées d'après celles de l'édition de Paris. Amsterdam, Wetstein et Smith, ou Arkstée, 1741, 4 vols., 16mo., portrait after Mignard, frontispiece, fleuron repeated on titles and 32 plates designed and engraved by Punt, after Boucher. First impressions executed by Punt between 1738 and 1740 (25s. to 30s.).

Reprinted 1744, 1749, and 1750 (10s.). Sometimes Punt's plates are inserted in the Paris editions of 1738 or 1739, 8 vols., 12mo. The Paris edition of 1749, 8 vols., 16mo., with portrait after Mignard and 33 plates by Fessard after Boucher, is not appreciated.

Molière. Œuvres . . . édition augmentée de la vie de l'auteur, et des remarques historiques et critiques par Voltaire, avec de très-belles figures en taille-douce de J. Punt. Amsterdam et Leipzig, Arkstée et Merkus, 1765, 6 vols., 16mo., portrait-frontispiece and 33 plates after Boucher, reduced by Punt (15s. to 20s.).

Molière. Œuvres . . . Paris (imprimerie de Lebreton), Prault, 1760, 8 vols., 16mo., 33 plates by Legrand after Boucher, and portrait by Legrand after Coypel (5s.).

Molière. Œuvres de Molière, avec des remarques grammaticales, des avertissements et des observations sur chaque pièce, par M. Bret. Paris, par la Compagnie des libraires associés, 1773, 6 vols., 8vo., portrait of Molière after Mignard by Cathelin, 6 fleurons on titles by and after Moreau, woodcut head and tail pieces after Papillon, etc., and 33 plates after Moreau by Baquoy (3), de Launay (2), Duclos (4), de Ghendt (2), Helman (1), Lebas (1), Legrand (1), Leveau (4), Moreau (1), Masquelier (1), Née (6), and Simonet (7) (£4 to £5, and in morocco according to state).

An edition remarkable alike for the type and for the beauty of the illustrations. M. E. Paillet's copy, in old red morocco by Mouillié with his ticket, and containing extra all the plates in artist's proofs (rarissime) as well as the portrait and the 6 fleurons in proofs without text, is marked by M. Morgand 15,000 frs. The 2 plates for "L'Avare" and "Misanthrope" have not come out well, and good impressions are very seldom seen; the plate for the "Sicilien," designed and engraved by Moreau, who himself is represented there as the painter at his easel, should have his signature clear and distinct. The good copies contain star (double) leaves of pages lxvi., lxvii., and lxxxi., in vol. 1. No copy in old morocco of the period exists with plates before letters. Bozérian was the first who sought after and bound these so much now coveted copies. The etchings are extremely rare. Some few copies of the complete or almost complete series are, however, known to exist, as one is in the Duc d'Aumale's library, the other in the Roederer collection. Comte de La Bédoyère's copy, with the plates in proofs before letters, was sold in the Béhague sale for 4700 frs. Comte de La Béraudière's copy, uncut, was sold for 675 frs., and the series of unlettered proofs for 3600 frs.; Béhague's copy, in green morocco by Capé, containing the plates before letters, 4700 frs.; the Gosford copy, with the unlettered proofs inserted (2 mounted, but the plates for "Misanthrope" and "Don Juan" before artist's name), and bound in green morocco by Derôme, 7800 frs.; a copy in old red morocco, 800 frs. (1878); Rich. Lion's copy, bound by Derôme, 1400 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy, half morocco, uncut, containing as extras: (1) Ficquet's portrait of Molière before artists' names; (2) 6 fleurons on titles in artists' proofs, without text; (3) portrait and the series of 33 plates in proofs before letters; (4) 22 original etchings; (5) 2 plates in unfinished state before artists' names; (6) Renouard's published portrait and plates of Moreau in double state, etc.; and lastly, 2 unpublished pieces of Molière, was sold for 22,100 frs. (1894). Moreau's original drawing in sepia, which figured in the Soleinne copy, are now the property of M. le Vicomte Frédéric de Janzé. Reprinted 1788, 1805, and 1808.

Molière. Œuvres. Paris, Didot ainé, 1792, 6 vols., 4to., fine portrait by Saint Aubin (20s.). Only 250 copies printed, besides one on vellum. This is the "Edition du Dauphin."

Molière. Le Tartufe. 20 leaves, 8vo., with 2 vignettes heading the first and second scene, designed and engraved by Cochin.

A tentative piece, which formed the subject of negotiations between Jombert and Didot, booksellers, for the publication of Molière's "Comédies." Cochin fils associated himself with them for executing the artistic embellishments consisting of a head and tail piece for every scene; but the death of Didot (1757) and of Aubin, the spirited engraver, combined with the pressure of Cochin's engagements, caused the collapse of this magnificent enterprise.

Molière. Suite d'Estampes pour les Comédies de Molière, 8vo., portrait by A. de Saint-Aubin, and 30 plates after Moreau le jeune by Bosq, Croutelle, de Gendt, Girardet, Delvaux, Ribault, Roger, Simonet, de Villiers, and Villerey (20s., and treble and more for unlettered proofs, and considerably more than double for the etchings).

This is the second series of Moreau's illustrations for Molière, executed by the artist by order of Renouard. A certain number were taken on India paper. The plate for "Amphitryon" was engraved twice by Pigeot and by Roger. Moreau's original drawings in sepia brought in the Renouard sale 1105 frs.

Moline. Le Duo interrompu, conte suivi d'ariettes nouvelles. Amsterdam et Paris, Dufour, 1766, 8vo., 72 pages, frontispiece, not signed (3s.).

Mollevaut (C. L.). Cent Fables de quatre vers chacune. Paris, Arthur Bertrand, 12mo., engraved title and 3 plates after Chasselat by Courbe (3s.).

Moncrif (F. A. Paradis de). Les Aventures de Zeloïde et d'Amazarifdine, contes indiens. Paris et Bruxelles, 1717, 12mo., 1 plate, not signed (3s.).

Moncrif. Les Chats. Paris, Quillau, 1727, 8vo., 9 original plates after Charles Coypel, etched by the comte de Caylus, and 1 vignette representing the god Pet (8s.).

Original edition. The plate "La Femme couchée" dictating to a notary her last will, in which she bequeaths her whole fortune to her cat that was seated on her bed, is supposed to represent the portrait of Madame du Deffand, at whose request Coypel executed these engravings. The Béhague copy bound with the "Histoire des Rats" by Hardy, 70 frs.; Radziwill's copy in calf, 39 frs.; Van de Helle's copy in red morocco, 50 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy in red morocco, with the arms of Mlle. du Maine (the Nodier copy), 600 frs. (1894). The last is a record price, which assuredly has no justification and deserves no imitation. Reprinted, Rotterdam, 1728, the engraver being T. Otten (4s.).

Eisen, texte gravé par Drouët Paris, chez Le Mire, graveur, avec privilège du Roi, 1772, 8vo. and 4to., engraved title, frontispiece containing the medal portrait of Montesquieu, vignette heading the dedication (the arms of England), and 9 fine plates after Eisen by Le Mire (2 of them for "Céphise et l'Amour") (£4 in 8vo. and £6 in 4to., and in morocco according to state).

In the plates artist and engraver both appear at their best. The unlettered proofs are worth a fancy price, still more so the etchings, which are excessively rare. The frontispiece exists "avant la rose," the first plate "avant l'abaissement de la draperie," and the fourth plate "avant le nuage." Some copies have the plates before the numbers. Derome has executed some fine mosaic bindings for this book. The finest copy covered with a sumptuous binding and containing the plates in artist's proofs, was acquired by the late Louis Roederer of Reims in the Tite sale. The Béhague copy in old green morocco with the plates coloured, 550 frs.; Le Barbier de Tinan's copy in old red morocco, 650 frs., resold in the Lion sale for 750 frs.; Delbergue's copy containing the artist's proofs, the remarque proofs and the etchings, and bound by Cuzin in green morocco, doublé with red, 6100 frs.; Em. The second plate of Céphise, unnumbered, has the inscription "Embrassez-vous, elles croissent," and numbered "La chaleur va les faire renaitre." The copy containing the original drawings was sold "à l'amiable" for 10,000 frs.

Montesquieu. Le Temple de Gnide. Paris, Didot jeune (or, Egron) an III., roy. 8vo., vellum paper. The plates reprinted from the 1772 edition with two extra plates by Lemire and Thomas for "Arsace et Isménie (10s.).

The plates are sometimes coloured. The Delbergue copy, with the plates "gouachées" (coloured like water-colours), 500 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' unique copy on vellum, containing (1) Eisen's original drawings à la mine de plomb; (2) Barbier's sepia drawings for "Arsace et Isménie;" (3) the series of frontispiece and 9 plates by Le Mire in proofs before letters (except the first plate of Arsace lettered); (4) the 1st, 3rd, and 4th plates in first state, and (5) the series of frontispieces and 10 plates painted à la gouache, bound in red morocco doublé, with large dentelle by Petit, 14,000 frs. Paris, Didot jeune, 1795 (or Didot l'ainé, 1796), 16mo., title with Montesquieu's portrait after and by Saint-Aubin, and 12 vignettes, 8 of which after Regnault, etched by Bertaux and finished by Baquoy (2), de Ghendt (2), Halbou (1), Lingee (1), Patas (2), 2 for "Céphise et l'Amour" after Regnault, etched by Bertaux and finished by de Ghendt and Ponce, and 2 for Arsace et Isménie after Lebarbier by Courbe and Patas (10s., and double on vellum paper with unlettered proofs (100 copies printed), and on large vellum paper 12mo., with unlettered proofs, a fancy price, and particularly with the extremely rare etchings).

Copies exist on vellum. A copy of the 1794 edition, with Regnault's original drawings in bistre, 4to. size, 1500 frs.; Béhague's copy with unlettered proofs in green morocco by Hardy, 300 frs.; Delbergue's copy with the etchings in red morocco by Cuzin, 800 frs., resold in the Lion sale for 705 frs. Many copies bound by Bozérian do not contain "Arsace et Isménie."

Montesquieu. Le Temple de Gnide. A Paris, Didot l'ainé, l'an III. (1795);—Le Temple de Gnide, suivi d'Arsace et d'Isménie. A Paris, Didot l'ainé, an IV. (1796), 16mo., running pagination (1 to 72 and 73 to 149), fleuron on first title, and St. Aubin's portrait of Montesquieu on the second title, and 12 vignettes after Berthout (10) and Morillier (2) (10s., and on large vellum paper, of which only 100 copies were printed, £3). One copy exists on vellum.

Although only 100 copies were printed, the artistic merit is almost nil. Two copies exist on vellum. Dr. Cusco possesses the original water-colour drawings.

Montesquieu. Le Temple de Gnide, suivi des romans de l'auteur. Paris, Bailly (impr. Charpentier), 1797, 8vo., 3 plates after Clavareau, 1 of which for "Céphise et l'Amour" (3s.).

Seven copies were taken in folio with the etchings (£2 to £3).

A copy with the original drawings was sold in 1824 for 310 frs.; Radziwill's large-paper copy in citron morocco by Bradel, 130 frs.

Supplement : vol. 1, 101 plates ; vol. 2, 73 plates ; vol. 3, 94 plates ; vol. 4, 67 plates ; vol. 5, 77 plates. Reprinted 1722 (Supplement, 1754), half price.

Montfaucon. Les Monuments de la Monarchie française avec les figures de chaque règne que l'injure du temps a épargnées (en français et en latin). Paris, Gandouin, 1729–1733, 5 vols., folio (£5, and double on large paper).

Radziwill's copy of both works in 20 vols., fol., morocco, with royal arms by Derome, 2250 frs.—a price evidently due, as in other cases, to the binding rather than to the book.

Montgéron (L.-Basile Carré de). La Vérité des Miracles opérés à l'intercession de M. de Paris et autres appellans . . . contre l'archev. de Sens. S.l. [Paris] 1737, 2 vols., 4to., engravings (25s. to 30s.).

Monthly Mirror (The), reflecting Men and Manners, with strictures on their Epitome, the Stage. London, 1795–1800, 10 vols., 8vo., frontispiece, plates and portraits of actors and actresses (£2 to £3).

Montigni. Les Stratagèmes des échecs . . . Paris, an X., 2 parts, 16mo., part 2 contains 120 engravings (5s.).

Montigny (De). Thérèse philosophe, ou Mémoires pour servir à l'histoire de D. Dirrag et de Mlle. Eradice (le père Girard et Mlle. Cadière), avec histoire de Mme. Bois-Laurier. La Haye (à la Sphère), s.d. (1748), 2 parts in 8vo., text bordered, frontispiece and 16 plates, not signed (mostly folding plates) (£3 to £4).

Very rare, and the plates are very curious. Comte de Lignerolles' copy, in old red morocco doublé, and with dentelle outside, 1230 frs. (1894).

Montigny. Thérèse philosophe, 2 vols., 8vo., 182 and 87 pages respectively, text bordered, vignette on each title, 2 frontispieces, and 22 plates by Delcroche, a Dutch artiste (£2 to £3).

The book is also attributed to the Marquis d'Argens, and the plates to the Comte de Caylus.

Montigny. Thérèse philosophe. Londres (La Haye), 1783, 2 vols., 12mo., 2 frontispieces, 2 titles, and 36 plates (altogether 40 plates). Attributed to Binet ; very rare (£6).

Montigny. Thérèse philosophe . . . Londres (Paris, Cazin), 1785, 2 vols., 16mo., 20 plates after Borel by Elluin, not signed (£8).

The prettiest edition, owing to the combined efforts of two of the greatest artists in this genre. The claim put forward on the title by Cazin, "ornée d'un plus grand nombre de figures que toutes les précédentes" (editions), is erroneous, as the previous edition contains double the number of plates. All subsequent editions and counterfeits are of little value, as the impressions are worn and weak.

Montigny. Uniformes militaires, où se trouvent gravés en taille-douce, les uniformes de la Maison du Roy, de tous les régiments de France, etc. . . ., dessinés et gravés par le sieur de Montigny. Se vend à Paris, chez l'auteur, 1772, 12mo., engraved title and 170 plates (£12 to £15).

There are copies with the plates coloured. Béhague's copy, coloured, with the arms of Louis XV., was acquired by Vicomte de Savigny de Moncorps for 400 frs. It would now bring more than treble the price. Preceding the plates mentioned, there should be 4 coloured portraits of Louis XV., Louis Dauphin, Louis Stanislas Xavier de France Comte de Provence, and of Charles Philippe de France Comte d'Artois, all in military costumes on horseback.

Montigny. Mémoires historiques de Mesdames Adelaïde et Victoire de France, filles de Louis XV., renfermant des particularités intéressantes sur leur Voyage de Belle-Vue à Rome, par M. T. A Paris, 1802, 3 vols., 12mo., original edition, 3 plates by Bovinet after Naudet (10s.).

Reprinted 1714.

Moore. Zelucco, ou le Vice trouve en lui-même son châtimement, traduit de l'anglais du Dr. Moore par Cantwel. Paris, Lepetit, 1796, 4 vols. in 2, 16mo., 4 plates, not signed (4s.).

Morality. Blossoms of Morality. E. Newbery, 1796, 47 cuts designed and engraved by J. Bewick (6s.).

Morand (Sauveur-Jerôme). Histoire de la Sainte Chapelle royale du Palais . . . Paris, 1790, 4to., 19 plates by Ransonnette (5s.).

Morant (P.). The History and Antiquities of the County of Essex. London, 1768, 2 vols., fol., maps, plans, and plates (£12 to £14, and more on large paper).

It is essential that the plate of Audley House, commonly called Audley End, engraved by Austin, and facing page 550 in vol. 2, and which is not mentioned in the list of plates, should not be wanting, as otherwise the book loses in value about £3.

Moravie (Frères de). Prière et fidèle exposition de l'origine, de la doctrine, des constitutions, usages et cérémonies ecclésiastiques de l'Eglise de l'Unité des Frères de Moravie. S.l., 1762, 8vo., 26 very curious plates (5s.).

Moreau le Jeune (Jean Michel). Figures de l'Histoire de France, dessinées par Moreau le jeune et gravées par Le Bas, avec des explications par l'abbé Garnier. 1785, roy. 4to., engraved throughout, frontispiece and 166 half-page figures after Moreau by Couché, Dambrun, Delignon, Delvaux, Duclos, Duflos, Héméry, Fosseyeux, Garreau, Gaucher, Guttenberg, Gayot, Halbou, Helman, Hulk, Julien, Langlois, Leveau, Maillet, Malapeau, Malbeste, Martini, Masquelier, Patas, Pauquet, Pélicier, Racine, Romanet, Simonet, Texier, and Thomas (£3 to £4, and much more than treble with unlettered proofs).

This beautiful series appeared in 16 parts. Moreau did not finish, as the history does not go beyond 1356. In some copies there are found the series of 36 plates after Lépicie and Monnet, which was started by Le Bas in 1778, and subsequently suppressed by Moreau, who substituted his own compositions. The new series of 166 plates after Moreau count from 2 to 154, because Monnet's frontispiece of the first series is numbered 1; then plate 142 is double, and 12 are unlettered plates, which, following the order of the events, should be placed between the first and the second 143. The total is thus brought up to 167 plates, including the frontispiece. Plates 39 and 59 represent maps of France, and 2 other plates contain medals. The real author of the text accompanying the plates is Dingé, and not abbé Garnier. De Bure's copy in red morocco by Bradel was sold in the Delbergue sale for 1180 frs.; Em. Martin's copy, also in an old binding, 125 frs. 119 of the original drawings were sold in the Lamy sale for 471 frs.; they were originally the property of Le Bas. Moreau's 161 original drawings were sold in the Renouard sale for 995 frs. Reprinted in 1790 under the title: Discours sur l'histoire de France par L. A. Dingé. Paris, de l'imprimerie de Monsieur, 1790, 4to. The illustrations are weak and worn. About 1813 Renouard, who became proprietor of the drawings and copper-plates, caused a new issue of the plates, but the paper being very delicate, while that of the original impressions is fine, it is easily detected.

Moreau le Jeune. Eléments de Dessin par Moreau jeune depuis les premiers principes jusqu'à l'académie, avec l'échelle des proportions du corps, 30 leaves folio, engraved by Mme. Lingée (30s. to 40s.).

Moreau (J. N., historiograph de France). Bibliothèque de Madame la Dauphine. No. 1, Histoire. Paris, Saillant et Nyon, 1770, 8vo., all published, very fine frontispiece, representing Marie Antoinette surrounded by the Graces, and receiving a book from the hand of the "Muse de l'Histoire," designed and engraved by Eisen (12s. to 15s.). In the second state the plate bears the legend: "Toutes les Grâces sont Sœurs."

Moreau (Louis). Paysages inventés et dessinés par Louis M . . . [A Paris, chez Naudet, s.d. (circa 1760)], 4to., 65 etched landscapes on 30 leaves (10s.).

Morel de Vindé. Primerose, par M . . el de V . . dé. Paris, Didot l'aîné, 1797, 16mo., frontispiece and 5 charming plates after Lefèvre by Godefroy (5s., and treble on vellum paper, and with the unlettered proofs £3, and on large vellum paper with unlettered proofs (only 100 copies printed) £6 to £8, and with the etchings and the counter-proofs (rarissime) £20).

Delbergue's copy on large vellum paper with unlettered proofs, and the etchings in morocco doublé by Cuzin, 500 frs. ; Comte de Lignerolles' copy on vellum with artist's proofs, and the etchings in morocco by Trautz-Bauzonnet, together with "Zélomir" by Morel de Vindé in the same state, 775 frs. (1894).

Morel de Vindé. Zélomir, par Morel (de Vindé). Paris, Didot l'ainé, 1801, 16mo., 6 plates after Lefèvre by Godefroy. The same prices in the different states as for "Primerose."

The Delbergue copy in condition as above, 500 frs.

Morel de Vindé. La Morale de l'Enfance, ou Collection de quatrains moraux, mis à la portée des enfants et rangés par ordre méthodique, 5^{me} édition. Paris, P. Didot, an VIII. (1800), 12mo., 1 plate designed and engraved by Coiny (3s.).

Morlière (de la). Angola, histoire indienne, ouvrage sans vraisemblance. A Agra, avec privilège du Grand-Mogol (Paris), 1748, 2 parts in 1 vol., 12mo., 2 engraved titles containing each a pretty vignette, 1 signed Tardieu de la Montagne sc. (3s.).

Morlière (de la). Angola, histoire indienne, ouvrage sans vraisemblance. Nouvelle édition revue et corrigée. A. Agra, avec privilège du Grand-Mogol (Paris), 1751, 2 parts, 12mo., fleuron on titles (both alike), 2 vignettes after Eisen by Maisonneuve, and 5 plates after Eisen by Tardieu, Aveline, and Maisonneuve (40s., and in morocco according to state).

Characteristic for the boudoir language of the time the author introduces in his romance. The counterfeit of the same date is to be recognized by the vignettes containing a recumbent Venus instead of a coach with two lovers inside ; and, again, the fleuron is not repeated on the second title. Baron J. Pichon's copy bound by Padeloup, 500 frs. ; R. Lion's copy in blue morocco doublé with citron by Cuzin, 420 frs. Subsequent reprints are valueless.

Morlière (de la). Les Lauriers ecclésiastiques, ou Campagnes de l'abbé de T * * * (par La Morlière), troisième édition, corrigée et enrichie de VI. planches du fameux F. B. (falsely attributed to Boucher, but in fact after Desrais). Luxuropolis, de l'imprimerie ordinaire du clergé, 1779, 12mo., 6 plates, not signed (20s.) ; rare.

Morus. L'Utopie de Thomas Morus, chancelier d'Angleterre, idée ingénieuse pour remédier au malheur des hommes et pour leur procurer une félicité complète, traduite nouvellement en françois par M. de Gueudeville, et ornée de très-belles figures. A Leide, chez Pierre Van der Aa, 1715, post 8vo., portrait by Desrochers, engraved title, escutcheon, and 16 pretty plates (20s.).

The plate of the "Etalage viril," which is often missing, bears the signature of Bleyswick, but a comparison of the compositions suggests that all emanated from his hand. Comte de Lignerolles' copy in red morocco by Padeloup, 905 frs. (1894). Price of binding. Reprinted, Amsterdam, 1730.

Morveau (L'abbé de). Le Triomphe de la Religion, ou le Sacrifice de Madame Louise de France, poeme dédié à Mme. Adelaïde. Londres et Paris, Musier, 1774, 8vo., a fine portrait (5s.).

This magnificent work was originally published in 80 parts of 4 plates each, at 48 frs. each (and 96 frs. for unlettered proofs), and the style of execution of the engravings makes it germane to the art of the 18th century. The production of the book is mainly due to the energy and devotion of the artist Pierre Laurent. Reprinted 1829–30, with the plates classified as per each school. Henri Laurent supplemented his father's work by issuing the Musée Napoléon and the Musée Royal in 40 parts in 2 vols., 1812–18, containing fleuron on title of Musée Napoléon, having the portrait of Marie Louise and the crown of Bonaparte after Moreau, etched by Malbeste and finished by Niquet ainé, vignette after Moreau by Baquoy, tailpiece after Debret by Godefroy fils, fleuron containing royal arms on vol. 2, and 161 plates. Leboeuf de Montgermont's copy of the 6 vols., 1650 frs. The book has now declined in value, owing in the main to unwieldy size. Copies, however, in nice bindings command high prices, from £15 to £20, and double with artists' proofs.

Muses (Les). Collection d'Estampes gravées en couleur, avec l'explication des figures, suivie d'un coup d'œil rapide sur les Beaux-Arts. Paris, de l'imprimerie de Monsieur, chez Le sieur Gamble, Anglois, inventeur de l'impression des Estampes en couleur, et marchand d'Estampes, maison de la Manufacture royale de Papiers peints, rue de Louis-le-Grand, au coin du Boulevard; (et chez) Didot le jeune, imprimeur de Monsieur quai des Augustins, No. 22, 1789, folio, frontispiece after Boizot by Ridé, and 12 plates after Fortin (2), Boizot (7), Coqueret (1), and Ridé (2), by Boizot (3) and Ridé (9). £3 to £4 in bistre, and in colours (rarissime) a fancy price.

The author had some years ago a chance of acquiring a coloured copy, but the colouring being indifferent, he declined the offer; he ascertained at the time that the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris possessed no copy, and the copy in the South Kensington Museum is plain.

Paris, an XII., 1804–15, 10 vols., roy. 8vo.;—Musée Royal de France, ou, Collection gravée des Chef-d'Œuvre de Peinture et de Sculpture, dont il s'est enrichi depuis la restauration, publié par Mad. veuve Filhol (le text par M. Jal). Paris, (720 for the 10 vols. originally published in 120 parts of 6 plates each, and 72 for supplement) after Moreau, Le Roy, and others by Langlois, Massard, etc. (£6 to £8, and more on vellum paper, and more than double on large paper, 4to., with unlettered proofs, and with the etchings, a fancy price).

The supplement has no etchings, but 25 copies were printed on large paper with lettered India proofs. Of vol. 1 only 2 copies are known to exist on large paper, and that accounts for this volume (consisting of text and 60 plates) always being found mounted in the large-paper copies, so as to adapt it to the size of the subsequent volumes. Gosford large-paper copy in old English red morocco, 1220 frs. (1882). Copies with the title: "Musée français," dated 1814-15, contain inferior impressions.

Recueil des meilleurs Contes en vers. Londres (Paris, Cazin), 1778, 4 vols., 16mo., portrait of La Fontaine, and 116 charming vignettes, not signed, and falsely attributed to Duplessi-Bertaux; they are supposed to have been executed by Durand, miniature painter of the Duc d'Orleans (who designed the vignettes for the "Fond du Sac"), and engraved by Delvaux and others (the vignette "L'Amour Oiseleur" at page 15 of vol. 4 has the signature "Dreppe") (£2 to £3, and in morocco according to state).

This work, known under the name of "Petits Conteurs," consists of Contes et Nouvelles en vers par M. de La Fontaine (vols. 1 and 2), with 65 vignettes; Contes et Nouvelles en vers par Voltaire, Vergier, Senecé, Perrault, Moncrif, and Ducerceau (vol. 3), with 23 vignettes; and Contes en vers par Grécourt, Autreau, Saint-Lambert, Chamfort, Dorat, La Monnaye, and Fr. de Neufchateau (vol. 4), with 28 vignettes. The smallness of the margin is owing to the book having been printed on small-size paper. Vols. 1 and 2, forming a work in themselves, were sold before the others were published; thus they are sometimes found in old morocco bindings not uniform. The first 60 copies, conspicuous for their brilliant impressions, have in vol. 2 the vignette of the "Courtisane amoureuse" transposed to page 119, and that of "Nicaise" to page 105. The vignettes in artists' proofs without text are of the utmost rarity. M. E. Paillet's copy, containing the whole 116 vignettes in this choice state (considered as unique), and bound in sumptuous doublé binding by Lortie, is marked by Morgand 15,000 frs. Leboeuf de Montgermont's copy, "relié sur brochure," in citron morocco by Trautz, 1020 frs.; Collin's copy in blue morocco by Trautz, 1480 frs.; Delbergue's copy in citron morocco by Thibaron, 400 frs.; the Béhague copy in old red morocco, 680 frs. (formerly sold in the Em. Martin's sale for 900 frs.); Comte de Lignerolles' copy, uncut, in red morocco with dentelle by Trautz-Bauzonnet, 1100 frs. (1894). Another copy in old red morocco was sold in the same season for 240 frs., and another, uncut and unopened, for 335 frs.

All the plates are unsigned. Restif de la Bretonne. Le Paysan perverti, ou les Dangers de la ville, histoire récente, etc. A La Haye et se trouve à Paris, chez Esprit, 1776, 8 parts in 4 vols., 12mo., 84 plates (including 8 frontispieces) after Binet by Berthet and Le Roy (50s., double in modern morocco, and in old morocco according to state).

Most copies contain only 82 plates, as the two "bis" (star) plates "Manon présentée" and "Edmond convalescent" appear to have been published at a later date, and are therefore sometimes found inserted in "La Paysane pervertie." Plate 24 at page 286, vol. 1, part 2, exists in a second state, where Gaudet is dressed in the coat of a marquis instead of a clerical frock. The alteration was effected to please the censor. The plate is of ordinary value in both states.

Restif de la Bretonne. La Paysane pervertie . . . A La Haie, et se trouve à Paris, chez la dame veuve Duchesne, 1784, 8 parts in 4 vols., 12mo., 38 plates (including 8 frontispieces) after Binet by Berthet, Giraud le jeune, and Leroy, or not signed (30s. to 40s.).

Some copies have only "Les Dangers de la ville, etc.," as title, the words "La Paysane pervertie" having been suppressed by the censor. Turner's copy of Le Paysan and La Paysane in old red morocco, 830 frs. (resold 430 frs. in the Lion sale); the Béhague copy in morocco by Hardy, 655 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy (including the 9th volume, "Explication des figures"), with 122 plates in old red morocco, 1800 frs. (1894). According to P. Lacroix, there are copies on large paper. This is the first edition of "La Paysane;" the original edition of "Le Paysan" came out in 1775, 4 vols., 12mo., without plates.

Restif de la Bretonne. Le Paysan et la Paysane pervertie, ou les Dangers de la ville . . . Imprimé à La Haye, 1784, 16 parts in 4 vols., 12mo., 120 plates (including 8 frontispieces) (£6 to £8).

P. Lacroix believes that this collective edition of both novels did not appear before 1787, and is therefore pre-dated. Binet's 120 original India ink drawings were acquired by the Duc de Rivoli in the De La Bedoyère sale in 1862 for the trifling sum of 550 frs.

Restif de la Bretonne. Les Figures du Paysan perverti, les Figures de la Paysane pervertie, etc., etc. S.l.n.d. (1784-85), 2 parts in 1 vol., 12mo. This vol., "Explication des 120 planches," should be added to the set of 8 vols. (4s.).

Restif de la Bretonne. Le Quadragénaire ou l'Age de renoncer aux passions . . . (on half-title: le Quadragénaire, ou l'Homme de XL. ans). Genève et Paris, V^e Duchesne, 1777, 2 vols., 12mo., 15 plates, 2 of them signed Baquoy scul., and Dutertre inv. and Berthet fecit (20s.).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 54 frs.

Restif de la Bretonne. Le Nouvel Abeilard, ou Lettres de deux amans qui ne se sont jamais vus. Neuchâtel et Paris, veuve Duchesne, 1778, 4 vols., 12mo., frontispiece and 9 plates in the style of Gravelot, one of them "gravé par Mme. Ponce" (20s.).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 82 frs. Reprinted En Suisse, 1779.

Restif de la Bretonne. La Vie de Mon Père . . . Neuchâtel et Paris, chez la veuve Duchesne, ou Le Jay, ou Bastien, 1779, 2 parts in 1 vol., 12mo., 2 fleuron-portraits representing Restif's father and mother on titles, 2 frontispieces and 12 plates, not signed (25s.).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 48 frs.

Restif de la Bretonne. Les Contemporaines . . . Imprimé à Leipsick par Büschel marchand libraire, et se trouve à Paris, chez Belin ou chez la veuve Duchesne, 1780-5, 3 series of 17 vols. (113 plates), 13 vols. (87 plates), and 12 vols. (83 plates) respectively, together 42 vols., 12mo., with 283 plates (or 291 or 300 plates). In some copies the title of the second series is: "Les jolies Femmes du commun," and in others the title of the third series is: "Les Contemporaines graduées, etc." Almost all the plates are after Binet or his imitators, but they are not signed, a few only having the signatures of the engravers, Giraud aîné, Giraud jeune, Pauquet, and Baquoy. There is in some of the figures an exaggeration which makes them border on the ridiculous. Grimaud de la Reynière is supposed to have defrayed the cost of the publication, which was done somewhere in Switzerland. Restif stated that 2000 copies were printed, but the first volumes were reprinted before the completion of the work, and the impressions, particularly those of the first 12 vols., are pale and worn (£6 to £8).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 605 frs.; R. Lion's copy in red morocco by Chambolle, 950 frs. Restif's portrait is sometimes found added to the first series. Second edition 1781, but the last 12 vols. have not been reprinted.

Restif de la Bretonne. La Découverte australe, par un Homme-volant . . . Imprimé à Leipzick et se trouve à Paris, s.d., 4 vols., 12mo. On the half-title of vol. 1: "*Œuvres posthumes de N * * * (Nougaret), Œuvre S^{de}. la Découverte australe ou les Antipodes: avec une estampe à chaque fait principal, 1781*" (this half-title is very rare), 4 frontispieces and 19 plates, not signed. Copies with the leaves 337 to 422, containing 5 diatribes, which the police ordered to be suppressed, are rare (25s. and £3 respectively).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 115 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy in old red morocco, 360 frs. (1894).

Restif de la Bretonne. La Dernière Aventure d'un Homme de Quarant-cinq ans . . . Genève et Paris, chés Regnault, 1783, 2 parts in 1 vol., 12mo., 2 frontispieces and 2 plates after Binet by Giraud and Pauquet (15s.).

Turner's copy in old red morocco, 49 frs. P. Lacroix considers this romance to be Restif's chef-d'œuvre.

Restif de la Bretonne. La Prévention nationale. . . A La Haie, et se trouve à Paris, chés Regnault, 1784, 3 vols., 12mo., ornamented titles and 10 plates, not signed (12s.).

Comte de la Bédoyère's copy, uncut, with the 10 original drawings, 196 frs.; resold in the Bancel sale for 720 frs. Turner's copy in old red morocco, 35 frs. At the end of the last volume there is the correspondence of Restif with Mme. de Colleville, née Mlle. de Saint-Leger, the authoress of comedies and romances.

Restif de la Bretonne. Les Françaises . . . Neuchâtel et Paris, Guillot, 1786, 4 vols., 12mo., 34 numbered plates after Binet, or not signed by Giraud sen., or not signed (30s. to 40s.).

The artist has minimized the size of the heads and the figures of the females, much to their disadvantage. M. P. Lacroix thinks that in one of the figures of the Femme d'Ivrogne the portrait of Grimod de la Reynière fils is to be seen. Turner's copy in old red morocco, 63 frs. St. Quentin's copy in red morocco by Petit, 190 frs. (1894).

Restif de la Bretonne. Les Parisiennes . . . Neuchâtel et Paris, Guillot, 1787, 4 vols., 12mo., 20 numbered plates, not signed, but probably after Binet (25s.).

On plates 18, 22, and 24, the signature of "Camligue" (as engraver) is with difficulty discernible ; plate 16 bears the signature of "Guttenberg ;" plate 14 has no number. The title as described above is the rarest of the lot (£12 to £15). Le Barbier de Tinan's copy in red morocco by Thibaron, 1205 frs. A counterfeit in red and in bistre was engraved by Gleich in Germany.

Restif de la Bretonne. Tableaux de la Bonne Compagnie, ou Traits Caractéristiques, anecdotes secrètes, etc., accompagnées de planches en taille-douce, dessinées et gravées par M. Moreau le jeune, graveur du Cabinet du Roy, et d'autres célèbres artistes. Paris, 1787, 2 vols., 16mo., 16 plates, reduced from the "Estampes" of Moreau and Freudeberg by Camligue and Guttenberg, or not signed (£4 to £5).

Restif is said not to be the author of all these tales. The reduced plates of Moreau which accompany them have appeared before in folio, with a different text (see "Freudeberg and Moreau"). This pretty series first appeared in 12 plates entitled : "Seconde Suite d'Estampes pour servir à l'Histoire des Modes et du Costume en France," numbered 13 to 24. In the present work 4 plates are after Freudeberg, and 12 after Moreau. Béhague's copy in morocco by Hardy, 330 frs. In some copies the plate of "Le Boudoir" is found inserted, but there is no tale under that title in this edition, which does not belong to it.

Restif de la Bretonne. Tableaux de la Vie, ou les Mœurs du Dix-huitième siècle, avec 17 figures en taille-douce. A Neuwied sur le Rhin, chez la Société typographique et à Strasbourg, chez J.-G. Treuttel, s.d. (1787), 2 vols., 16mo., 17 plates after Freudeberg (5) and Moreau (12) (15s.).

The same book as above under another title.

Restif de la Bretonne. Monuments du Costume physique et moral de la fin du dix-huitième siècle, ou Tableaux de la Vie, ornés de figures dessinées et gravées par M. Moreau le jeune, dessinateur du cabinet de S. M., et par d'autres célèbres artistes. A Neuwied sur le Rhin, chez la Société typographique, 1789, atlas fol., 37 pages of text, and 26 plates after Moreau (24) and Freudeberg (2) by Baquoy, Camligue, Dambrun, Delignon, de Launay, Guttenberg, Helman, Malbeste, Martini, Halbou, Patas, Romanet, Thomas, Ingouf, and Bosse (£12 to £15).

Restif composed these little tales for a publisher who was desirous of utilizing Moreau's plates. This is the third issue, not including the etchings, of the plates, which appeared in 1775 and 1782 under the title of "Suite d'Estampes pour servir à l'Histoire des Mœurs et du Costume des Français du XVIII^e siècle," before letters and with letters, and date and A.P.D.R. (avec privilège du Roi)." Béhague's copy in red morocco, 1000 frs.

Reproduction of the 26 plates of the original edition; an English travesty, representing the types and costume of the English.

Restif de la Bretonne. Les Nuits de Paris ou le Spectacle Nocturne. A Londres et Paris, 1788-94, 16 parts in 8 vols., 12mo., 18 fine plates after Binet, not signed (£4).

The 15th part has a title: "La Semaine Nocturne, Sept Nuits de Paris, qui peuvent servir de suite aux III.—CLXXX. déjà publiées, etc.:" the 16th part (rare) is entitled: "Les Nuits de Paris, ou le Spectateur Nocturne, tome 18^e, 6^e partie, à Paris, 1794." Parts 1 to 14 inclusive have a running pagination to 3359 (erroneously marked 2359), and in part 15 the pagination recommences and finishes with the 16th part (1 to 564). Restif is easily recognisable as the "Spectateur Nocturne" in his big hat in the first plate. Among other curious sketchés worth noting is Restif presenting his daughter to the Comtesse Fanny de Beauharnais at a dinner given by Grimond de la Reynière; Louis XVI., to whom Bailly addresses remonstrances, a plate which should form the frontispiece to the last part; and Charlotte Corday on the scaffold, a plate used for the "Année des Dames Nationales." Brunet's copy, 400 frs.

Restif de la Bretonne. Le Palais-Royal, au Palais-Royal d'abord, puis partout, même chés Guillot, libraire, rue des Bernardins, 1790, 3 vols., 12mo., 3 folding plates, not signed, representing the 32 "Filles de l'Allée des Soupirs," "le Cirque," and "la Colonnade," being interesting relics of the "Palais Royal" of the time. Each volume has also Première Partie, "Les Filles de l'allée des Soupirs;" Seconde Partie, "Les Sunamites;" Troisième Partie, "Les Converseuses" (£2 to £3).

Brunet's copy in 1872, 300 frs.

Restif de la Bretonne. L'Année des Dames Nationales . . . Genève et Paris, 1791-94, 12 vols., 12mo., 36 plates (24 of which are copied from Le Paysan perversi and Les Contemporaines) (30s. to 40s.).

Most of the copies have only 31 or 32 plates (the 32nd being the rare plate of Charlotte Corday's execution in vol. 10); those at page 34, vol. 1; 359, vol. 2; 1149, vol. 4; and 1521, vol. 5, are often missing. The book having proved a failure, Restif issued a new title: "Les Provinciales, ou Histoire des Filles et Femmes des Provinces de Paris. Paris, Gamery, 1791-94."

Restif de la Bretonne. La Drame de la Vie, contenant un Homme tout entier, pièce en 13 actes des Ombres, et en 10 pièces régulières. In this romance Restif displays his eccentric love for little feet. The first edition, without plates, appeared in 1769, 3 vols., 16mo. Reprinted 1801, 3 vols., 16mo., with 3 plates, not signed (10s.).

The last is attributed to Restif. Fifty-two drawings by Binet for the "Veillées du marais" remained unpublished, and so have 150 plates announced by Restif for "Monsieur Nicolas." Some 25 years ago, when Restif was the rage, Fontaine formed a complete set of Restif's works (except Anti-Justine), and had it bound in 154 vols., fol., 8vo., 12mo., and 16mo., in red morocco by Chambolle-Duru, which he disposed of to M. Léon Mercier for 20,000 frs. M. Morgand acquired it afterwards, and broke it up and sold it separately. Prior to the Solar sale (1860), a collection of Restif's works (complete except Anti-Justine and 2 vols. of the "Théâtre"), bound in 165 vols., was sold for 1370 frs.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Collection complète des Œuvres de J. J. Rousseau. Londres (Bruxelles), 1774-83, 12 vols., 4to., portrait of Rousseau by A. de Saint-Aubin after La Tour, 12 fleurons on titles after Choffard, Le Barbier and Moreau, by Choffard, Dambrun, and Leveau, and 37 plates after Moreau and Le Barbier by Choffard, Dambrun, de Launay Aîné, de Launay Jeune, Duclos, Duflos, Halbou, Ingouf, Lemire, Leveau, Martini, Romanet, Saint-Aubin, Simonet, and Trière (£4 to £5).

A magnificent edition, some of Moreau's plates are specimens of the finest art and worth framing by themselves. The 37 plates are thus divided :—6 plates for the Œuvres diverses; 6 plates for the "Théâtre" (the plate of "Pigmalion" exists "découverte" with the transparent veil, and in this state by itself it commands from £6 to £8); 13 plates for the "Nouvelle Héloïse;" 9 plates for "Emile;" 3 plates for the "Confessions." They exist in three different states, viz. (1) Before the numbers (of pagination and volumes); in this state they are choice proofs and much sought for; (2) with the numbers, the watermarks running horizontal; (3) with the numbers and on a thinner paper, the watermarks running vertical. The very rare etchings exist in complete or nearly complete series. In the Mahérault sale 20 etchings brought 6600 frs. Some of the plates have a legend beneath, those for the "Nouvelle Héloïse" being without one, which is of little consequence, as the difference exists only in the absence of the numbers and the superior quality of the paper. The series of plates with full margin was sold in the Rich. Lion sale for 280 frs.; in the Em. Martin's the series of plates before the numbers with most of the etchings, 1500 frs.; Baron R. P.'s copy in marbled calf g.e., 245 frs. Moreau's and Le Barbier's sepia drawings were sold in the Hochart sale for 3000 frs., and now they are in the library, left by the late Baron J. E. de Rothschild. Another edition, Genève, 1780–90, 17 vols., 4to., published by du Peyron, the friend of Rousseau (£2 to £3). The Béhague copy in green morocco by Derome, 400 frs. The plates in this edition are only added, and were not published with the work.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Œuvres complètes, nouvelle édition, classée par ordre de matières, et ornée de quatre-vingt-dix gravures, avec des notes (par Séb. Mercier, l'abbé Brizard et de L'Aulnaye). Paris, Poinçot, 1788–93, 19 vols. in 38, 8vo., frontispieces, engraved titles, and plates after Moreau (30), Marillier (15), Le Barbier (11), Leclerc (6), Naigeon (2), Wheatly (1), Boucher (2), L. Petit (1), and Monnet (16), by Baquoy (2), Berthet (3), Borgnet (8), Biosse (1), Chateau (2), Croutelle (2), Dambrun (1), Delvaux (3), Duhamel (2), Dupréel (2), Frussotte (4), Geoffroy (3), de Ghendt (8), Giraud (10), Helman (4), Hubert (2), Leclerc (1), Lépine (1), Le Roy (4), Le Tellier (5), Maillet (2), Martin (1), Michel (1), Petit (2), Ponce (3), Pruneau (1), Texier (1), and Viguet (5) (40s., and double on vellum paper, and treble on large vellum paper in 4to., with plates before letters and numbers).

Although the title indicates 90 plates, there is no copy known to comprise more than 84 as enumerated above. Some copies contain also Rousseau's portrait, but most copies have only 80 plates. Moreau's plates of the preceding edition are here in reduced form.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Œuvres Choiesies . . . A Londres, s.d. (circa 1783), 15 vols., post 8vo., portrait and 26 plates after Marillier, by de Gendt, Dambrun, de Longueil, Halbou, Ingouf, de Launay, Macret, Ponce, and Trière (£2).

The plates exist with and without borders, and some have the date 1780, 1781, and 1782. M. E. Paillet's copy with artist's proofs in old morocco is priced by M. Morgand 1500 frs.; Rich. Lion's copy of the series of unlettered proofs, 250 frs. Marillier's 27 original sepia drawings are in the collection of M. Van Loo, at Gand.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Œuvres . . . Paris, Defer de Maisonneuve (Imprimerie de Didot jeune), 1793-1800, 18 vols., imp. 4to., vellum paper, portrait after Degault by Langlois, 5 frontispieces after Cochin (3) and Monsiau (2) by Girand (2), Trière (1), and Pauquet (2), and 29 plates, altogether 35 plates after Cochin, Monsiau, de Ghendt, Pauquet, Regnault, and Vincent, by Choffard, Dambrun, de Launay, Delvaux, Dupréel, de Ghendt, Halbou, Ingouf, Le Beau, Lemire, Patas, Panquet, Pillement, Ponce, Thomas, and Trière, and 24 plates of music and a facsimile autograph (£3, and double with unlettered proofs, and considerably more with the etchings).

15 copies were taken folio size. Scherer's copy (one of 4 on large colombier paper) with the artists' proofs and the etchings, 2660 frs.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Œuvres (collection de figures pour les) published under the direction of Dupréel in 12 parts, comprising portrait by A. de Saint-Aubin, and 64 plates in 16mo., and in 8vo. by Dupréel, Adam, Bovinet, Delignon, Lamarre, Lecerf, Malbeste, Pauquet, and Pigeot, after Moreau, Chasselat, Le Barbier, etc. This series, called the Dupréel Collection, was chiefly used by Bozérián to illustrate the Didot edition of 1796-1801, 25 vols., roy. 8vo., of which only 100 copies, all on vellum paper, were printed at Bozérián's cost.

The plates without the second border (afterwards added) are preferable. Huillard's copy in red morocco by Bozérián with the plates before the borders, 410 frs. In the Mahérault sale in 1880 a series of 2 fleurons (for titles) before letters, and 30 vignettes before numbers, designed by Moreau, was sold for 2200 frs. Although excessively rare, it would not bring now half the price.

Rousseau (Jean-Jacques). Mélanges. Londres (Cazin), 1772, 6 vols., 16mo., 2 plates after Moreau by Delvaux (3s.).

Another edition, 1782, 4 plates, by the same artists (5s.).

The plates are reproduced from the earlier editions. The preceding editions of the same century are 1709 (La Bédoyère's copy, morocco by Padeloup, 495 frs. in the Brunet sale, and a copy in morocco by Capé, 122 frs.); 1711 (with Le Duchat's notes), 3 vols., 8vo. (Potier's copy in old morocco, 300 frs.); 1726, 3 vols., 8vo. (Ernest-Quentin Bauchart's copy was sold in 1881 for 1300 frs.).

La Haye, H. Frick, 1713, 8vo., 12 plates, not signed (£2 to £3).

The book having been seized by the authorities, a great many copies clandestinely hidden away had the lower portion, containing the publisher's name, cut off so as to facilitate the sale. Chevalier d'Hénissart, the author, was imprisoned for having obtained the privilege to print his book by an artful dodge. Baron J. Pichon's copy, 150 frs.; the Béhague copy, 325 frs.

A La Haye, chez Pierre de Hondt, 1728-39, 6 vols., fol., fine frontispiece designed and engraved by B. The first impressions were published in the Dutch edition under the title: Tafereelen der voornaamste geschiedenissen van het Oud en Nieuw Testament, etc. Amsterdam, Fr. Halma, 1718 (or S. Gravenhage by Pietor de Hondt, 1728). This edition contains, besides the plates indicated in the French edition, 21 headpieces and 173 tailpieces (representing biblical subjects) after Picart and de Brie, and 212 ornamented capital letters. In some copies the first volume bears date 1720, as it first appeared, Amsterdam, chez B. Picart, 1720; the plates came out separately between 1705 and 1720, before their insertion in Saurier's Discourses was resolved on. Collections of the plates alone are therefore to be met with in 1 vol. with a Dutch title and dated 1706, which contain the earliest impressions and are much sought for; the French title is dated 1720. The Duchesse de Berry's copy of the book in morocco, 450 frs.; Radziwill's copy on super-royal paper, 140 frs.; Béhague's copy in red morocco, with the arms of the Prince de Soubise, 1200 frs.

M. Dumesnil counts 38 plates; but this number appears to be of rare occurrence. These spirited illustrations possess much artistic merit. M. R. Dumesnil states that Oudry made 38 compositions for the "Roman Comique," but only engraved 21 of them. The copy in the Bibliothèque Nationale contains the following plates with the indication:—inventé et gravé par J. B. Oudry: Arrivée des Comédiens au Mans; Bataille arrivée dans un tripot; La Rapinière tombe sur la chevre; L'Aventure du pot de chambre; La Rancune en brancard abattu dans le bourbier; Ragotin s'attire un coup de busc; La Rancune coupe le chapeau de Ragotin qui était enfoncé; Ragotin enivré par la Rancune; Le Destin se signale dans le combat de nuit; Renouvellement du Combat où deux servantes reçoivent des claques sur les fesses. The others being without Oudry's signature can only be attributed to him for the drawing, not the engraving. M. R. Dumesnil distinguishes

5 different states: Unfinished etching; finished etching before the description; with the title and address of Duchange; the title removed and substituted by another; with the address of Desnos. In the Gosford sale a series of 20 plates uncut, with the address of Huquier, 120 frs.

The work came out in 113 numbers for 678 frs. They utilized the leaves of the text and the engravings, interpolated 9 preliminary discourses with 6 plates, and had the title re-issued with a new frontispiece. This interesting book may, on the whole, be considered well executed; Duplessi-Bertaux's compositions are remarkable, and deserve the praise generally bestowed on them. In 1839 Pixerecourt's copy, containing both texts and the unlettered proofs and the etchings, was sold for 900 frs.; resold in the Em. Martin sale in 1877 for 3800 frs. Renouard's copy in a similar state, in 4 vols., was sold in 1854 for 323 frs.

The plates have been since used for "Acajou et Zirphile." The Comte de Tessin, Swedish ambassador to France, being desirous of making the acquaintance of Boucher's wife, is said to have seized the opportunity of bringing this little romance composed by Marivaux to the painter to be illustrated. Only 2 copies in 4to. were then printed (1740), embellished with plates and fleurons after Boucher by L. Cars. The following year (1741) the 4to. edition appeared with the same illustrations, which should be regarded as the original edition ; in 1743 the plates were reduced to an 8vo. edition. Having failed to achieve much success with this issue, Comte de Tessin presented the plates to Prault, who engaged Duclos to write a tale for the illustrations, and that is the origin of "Acajou et Zirphile," which appeared in 1764. Radziwill's copy in a sumptuous mosaic binding by Padeloup, 1500 frs.—the binding represents the value of 1495 frs.; resold in the Lebœuf de Montgermont sale for 3000 frs. Comte de Lignerolles' copy in red morocco, with arms of Bernard de Rieux, 460 frs. (1894). Reprinted 1741. My own copy of the 1728 4to. edition on Dutch paper has only 9 tailpieces, the last song being without any. The third vignette contains the medallion portrait of Queen Elizabeth, to whom he dedicated the book. There is another edition dated 1728, with one plate signed: Fletcher sculp.

(1894). According to Jombert, Cochin engraved in 1743 a vignette representing Henri IV. on horseback, which remained unpublished.

Voltaire. La Henriade . . . Genève, 1771, 12mo., portrait of Henri IV., allegorical frontispiece, and 10 plates after Gravelot (5s.). The undated edition of Amsterdam, aux dépens de la Compagnie, 16mo., contains the illustrations of the 1728 edition in reduced form (3s.), and so does the Amsterdam edition, 1772, 8vo. (4s.). The Cazin edition, 1781 and 1789, 16mo., with medallion portrait (3s.).

Voltaire. La Henriade . . . Paris, veuve Duchesne, Saillant, Desaint, Panckoucke et Nyon, libraires (imprimerie Barbou) (1769-1770), 2 vols., 8vo., frontispiece, engraved title with medallion portrait of Voltaire as fleuron, 10 plates and 10 vignettes after Eisen by de Longueil (10s., and on Dutch paper with the unlettered proofs, £3 to £4).

Eisen's illustrations leave much to be desired, and Voltaire's complimentary and flattering letter to this artist (which is to be found in vol. 1) makes them no better. Vulliet's copy uncut, 180 frs.; Béhague's copy in old red morocco, 950 frs. (resold in Rich. Lion's sale for 470 frs.). The Gosford copy with artists' proofs in old green morocco, 1200 frs.; Delbergue's copy with plates before letters, and the vignettes in artists' proofs without text, and bound by Lortic, 400 frs. This was the specimen volume of an edition of Voltaire's Works in 40 vols. 4to., which Beaumarchais intended to publish, and which Moreau was to have illustrated. Moreau's original drawings for "La Pucelle" have never been engraved, and were sold in an album in the Mahéault sale. Another series of 12 pieces, executed with a view of illustrating La Henriade of this edition, was designed and etched within rich borders by Quéverdo, and finished by Baquoy, Dambrun, Delignon, Halbou, and de Longueil. These are found in the Didot edition, 1790, 4to. Delbergue's copy, with unlettered proofs in old morocco, 280 frs. The unique copy on vellum of the 1789 edition, bound in 2 vols., morocco extra, by Chambolle, with extra illustrations, was sold in 1893 for £51.

In reference to the trio on the title an epigram exists worth reproducing, as follows: "Entre Beaumelle et Fréron Le Jay vient de placer Voltaire; ce serait un nouveau calvaire, s'il n'y manquait le bon larron."

Comte de Lignerolles' copy in old red morocco, 69 frs. (1894).

These plates are inartistic, though amusing, and have been copied in many a subsequent edition.

Voltaire. La Pucelle d'Orleans . . . A Conculix (1765), 24mo., 2 vols. (vol. 2, "Aux Délices, 1765"). The pagination is consecutive, engraved title with Voltaire's portrait and 20 folding plates (6s.).

On the frontispiece are the words, "Recueil des Estampes de la Pucelle d'Orleans qui pourront être reliées dans toutes sortes d'éditions à Londres, gravées d'après les idées de l'auteur par L. Rake" (sic). These are Drake's plates, which have for the greater part been copied in all subsequent editions, particularly in the Cazin edition of 1777.

The plates, remarkably well executed, have beneath one or two verses of the poem, as well as the number of the song which they illustrate. Béhague's copy in old red morocco, 240 frs. A copy in old calf was sold in Paris in 1894 for 40 frs.

Voltaire. La Pucelle d'Orleans, poeme héroï-comique en dix-huit chants. Genève (Cazin), 1777, 16mo., portrait of Jeanne d'Arc, frontispiece representing Voltaire seated, and the Maid of Orleans standing, and 18 plates, not signed (£3 to £4, and treble on large paper).

These plates, though known under the name of the "English Series," because of the designation of Book I. to XVIII., at the top of the plates, appear to have been designed by Marillier and engraved by Duclos. Sieuin knew an amateur who had purchased a series of plates from Duclos himself. The conjecture that Borel and Elluin were the respective artists must be summarily dismissed, as there is not the slightest resemblance either in the drawing or in the engraving to their style of workmanship. The large-paper copies in 12mo. are much sought for, and command high prices, as the word "book" at the top is not cut off, which testifies to the originality of the impressions. Some copies have only the engraved title by Marillier, a medallion portrait, and a pretty plate by N. de Launay after Marillier (5s.). A few copies are to be met with having only the portrait, while others only possess the plate (3s.).

Voltaire. La Pucelle d'Orléans, poeme en vingt et un chants, avec des notes, auquel on a joint plusieurs pièces qui y ont rapport. Lion's copy in similar condition, in green morocco, 640 frs.; Comte de Lignerolles' copy in the same state, in red morocco by Derome, 1100 frs. (1894). Duplessi-Bertaux's vignettes exist in artists' proofs without text; they are of extreme rarity, and collections have fetched as much as 1000 frs.

Voltaire. La Pucelle, poeme en 22 chants. Genève, 1780, 8vo., frontispiece and 21 plates attributed to Gravelot, and slightly different from those of the 1762 edition. (They are copied from the Geneva edition of 1775, 40 vols., 8vo.) (4s.).

The Delbergue copy on fine thin paper with unlettered proofs, bound by Bozérian, 800 frs. Sometimes on the title is the imprint A. Birmingham. The Béhague copy, with artists' proofs in blue morocco by Hardy, 500 frs. There are a few copies in folio with the plates before letters (£8 to £10). Voltaire. Œuvres Complètes de Voltaire (avec des avertissements et des notes par Condorcet, imprimées aux frais de Beaumarchais par les Soins de M. Decroix). De l'Imprimerie de la Société typographique (Kehl), 1784-89, 70 vols., 8vo., frontispiece with Voltaire's bust after Moreau, dedication with the portrait of Frédéric-Guillaume after Pourbus, 12 (or 14) portraits and 93 plates after Moreau, by Baquoy, Crou-telle, Dambrun, Delaunay, Delaunay jeune, Delignon, Duclos, Fosseyeux, Guttenberg, Halbou, Helman, Langlois, Lemire, Leveau, Lingée, de Longueil, Masquelier, Mariez, Patas, Romanet, Simonet, Tardieu, and Trière (£3 to £4, and double on large vellum paper, and with the unlettered proofs, of which only 25 perfect copies are said to exist, £15 and upwards, according to state of impressions).

Beaumarchais established a printing-office at Kehl for the purpose of publishing this celebrated edition. He employed the beautiful Baskerville type, at that time a novel feature in France, had special paper manufactured; all in all he expended upwards of three million francs on this elegant publication. Twenty-eight thousand copies are said to have been issued on 5 different papers; the first two, being ordinary ones, were published without plates. Vol. 1 alone bears date 1784; in the second issue this volume is dated 1785. Moreau, as we have already stated, began his artistic career by illustrating, as was intended, a large 4to. edition of Voltaire's works. He finished the drawings for "La Henriade," and just began to design for "La Pucelle," when the enterprise collapsed, and the publisher caused him to reduce the plates into 8vo. size. This series must be regarded as one of Moreau's masterpieces, for from beginning to end his genius pervades each and all of the compositions with sustained vigour and unflinching power. The complete collection of the unlettered proofs in fine impressions throughout is rarely to be met with. A few collections of artists' proofs and proofs in an unfinished state (etchings) have been formed. Moreau had a certain number of collections reserved for himself, which he disposed of privately and for his own benefit, and for which he had caused the following title to be engraved: "Estampes destinées à orner les éditions de M. de Voltaire, dédiées à S. A. R. Msgr. le prince de Prusse par J. M. Moreau, dessinateur et graveur du Cabinet du Roi, et de son Académie royale de Peinture et de Sculpture ; elles se vendent séparément des éditions. A Paris, chez l'auteur, rue du Coq Saint-Honoré, près du Louvre, Beaublé scrip., A.P.D.R." The plates are thus divided : frontispiece, dedication with the portrait of the King of Prussia, 44 plates for the "Théâtre," 10 for "La Henriade," 21 for "La Pucelle," 4 for "Contes en vers," 14 for the "Romans," and 14 portraits of Charles VII., Agnes Sorel (in the very first proofs the name is spelled "Sorelle"), Dunois, Louis XIV., Voltaire (after Moreau), Henri IV. (after Pourbus), Louis XV., Frederick the Great (after Vanloo), Catherine II., D'Alembert (after La Tour), D'Argental, the Marquise du Châtelet (after Marie Anne Loir), Charles XII., Peter the Great (after Caravaque), besides 5 additional portraits of the Prince of Prussia, Verdot, and of Voltaire (2). In the unlettered proofs the artists' names should be traced "à la pointe." In the Pixérécourt sale the collection of the plates before letters with 78 etchings brought only 250 frs. ; Armand Bertin's copy, containing a large quantity of extra illustrations, amounting to nearly 1000 pieces in number, and bound in russia by Niédrée, was sold in 1854 for 3900 frs. ; Béhague's subscription copy, in red morocco (72 vols.), 1100 frs. ; Baron Pichon's large vellum paper copy, bound in calf, 345 frs. ; Potier's large vellum paper copy, in red morocco, 1000 frs. ; Moreau le jeune's original sepia drawings were inserted in a copy which Beaumarchais had bound in red morocco with a view of presenting it to Catherine II. The Revolution prevented him from carrying his object into effect, and so it remained in the editor's family, who offered it in the Viollet Le Duc sale in 1849. Failing to realize the reserve price of 3000 frs., it was withdrawn, and sold privately by M. Delarue, Beaumarchais' son-in-law, to M. Fontaine, the bookseller, from whom M. Double purchased it for 13,500 frs. At this gentleman's sale, 1863, it was acquired by M. de Saint-Aubin for 9025 frs. for the Empress Eugénie (nine-tenths of the price may be counted for the drawings), and it is said to have perished in the flames when the Tuileries were burned down by the Communists in 1871. At the request of the King of Prussia, whose sight was affected, 25 copies were printed on blue paper. The value of the book has now considerably declined, owing to its voluminous contents.

Second series of engravings to illustrate Voltaire's works, executed by Moreau by order of the editor, Renouard. The plates are thus distributed: 44 for the "Théâtre," 10 for "La Henriade," 21 for "La Pucelle," 33 for the "Romans et Contes," and 5 for the Siècle of Louis XIV., Histoire de Charles XII., etc. Renouard added a series of 34 portraits, engraved by Augustin de Saint-Aubin, and other portraits (the copper-plates of which he possessed), and which brought the series up to 160 pieces. He also issued regular series of the artists' proofs and of the etchings. The Bancel copy of the series of unlettered proofs, with the 34 portraits "à la lettre grise," 840 frs.; in the same sale the 113 etchings, together with 28 etchings for the "Contes" after Monnet, 3100 frs. Moreau's 113 original sepia drawings, and Saint-Aubin's 30 India proof drawings of the portraits, were sold in the Renouard sale in 1854 for 1645 frs., and now they are in the collection left by the late Baron James-Edouard de Rothschild. Moreau's double series of plates are often found inserted in the Beuchot edition of Voltaire's Works, Paris, Lefèvre, 1829-34, 72 vols. (including tables). Lebeuf de Montgermont's large vellum paper copy, bound by Capé, 3150 frs.
